MILITANT LEADER GETS THREE YEARS

Mrs. Pankhurst Convicted of Inciting Persons to Commit Damage.

DEFIES COURT AND THE LAWS

Suffragettes Declares She Will Come Out of Prison Dead of Alive—Women in Court Room Go Wild and Defy Police.

London, April 3.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the leader of the militant suffragettes, was today found guilty and sentenced to three years penal servitude at the Old Bailey sessions on the charge of inciting persons to commit damage. The trial required two days.

The jury added to its verdict of guilty a strong recommendation for mercy and when the judge pronounced the heavy sentence of three years, the crowd of women in the court room rose in angry protest.

As Mrs. Pankhurst stood up in the prisoner's enclosure her sympathizers cheered wildly and then filed out of court singing, "March On! March On!" to the tune of the "Marseillaise."

Mrs. Pankhurst's closing address to the jury lasted 50 minutes. She informed the court that she did not wish to call any witnesses. In her address she frequently wandered so far from the matter before the court that the judge censured her.

Mrs. Pankhurst denied any malicious incitement. "Neither I nor the other militant suffragettes are wicked or malicious," she said.

"Women are not tried by their peers, and these trials are an example of what women are suffering in order to obtain their rights. Personally, I have had to surrender a large part of my income in order to be free to participate in the suffrage movement."

Speaking with much feeling, Mrs. Pankhurst fiercely criticised man-made laws, and said that the divorce law alone was sufficient to justify a revolution by the women.

In impassioned tones she declared: "Whatever may be my sentence, I will not submit. From the very moment I leave the court I will refuse to eat. I will come out of prison dead or alive at the earliest possible moment."

Justice Lush, in summing up, told the jury that Mrs. Pankhurst's speeches were an admission that she had incited to the perpetration of illegal acts.

Mrs. Pankhurst almost broke down when the jury pronounced its verdict. Leaning over the front of the prisoner's enclosure, she said: "If it is impossible to find a different verdict, I want to say to you and to the jury that it is your duty as private citizens to do what you can to put an end to this state of affairs."

She then repeated her determination to end her sentence as soon as possible, saying:

"I don't want to commit suicide. Life is very dear to all of us. But I want to see the women of this country enfranchised. I want to live until that has been done. I will take the desperate remedy other women have taken and I will keep it up as long as I have an ounce of strength.

"I deliberately broke the law, not hysterically and not emotionally, but for a set and serious purpose. I honestly believe this is the only way.

"This movement will go on whether I live or die. These women will go on until women have obtained the common rights of citizenship throughout the civilized world."

Justice Lush said:

"I must pass a severe sentence on you. If you would only realize the wrong you are doing and use your influence in the right direction, I would be the first to use my best endeavors to secure a mitigation of your sentence. I cannot and I will not regard your crime as trivial. It is a most serious one."

Immediately the sentence of three years fell from the judge's lips, the women in the court room broke out in a chorus of "Shame!" and "Outrage!"

With Mrs. Pankhurst's defiance to the judge, "I'll fight! Fight! Fight, Fight!" still ringing in their ears, the suffragettes went wild. Standing on their seats they shrieked and shouted anathemas at the court.

For three minutes they held full sway in the court room. The police were powerless. The judge's warning that he would commit the entire party of women to prison for contempt fell on deaf ears. The women laughed at the judge's threats and they finally left the court singing the suffargette "battle song." Such a scene never before was witnessed at the Old Bailey.

Outside the court room the militant women defied the police.

"Arrest us, take us to jail. What do we care?" they shouted.

The street crowd greeted the suffragettes with a mingled chorus of groans, hissses and boos.

There is no possibility of Mrs. Pankhurst serving her sentence of three years. The suffragette leader will undoubtedly be released under Home Secretary McKenna's new bill, permitting ticket of leave, which the suffragettes have christened the "Cat and Mouse Bill."

Human Life in Peril Now

London, April 3.—The sentence of three years' penal servitude imposed on Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, leader of the militant suffragettes, for forcing her followers to destroy property, has aroused the militants' fury, and they threaten strong reprisals. When sentence was pronounced by the judge, Sir Charles Montague Lush, in the Old Bailey sessions today, Mrs. Pank-

DYING, WANTS RESTORATION

Mrs. F. Augustus Heinz, on Deathbed, Desires Court to Restore Her to Her Husband, the Copper King—Petition.

New York, April 3.—The court that parted F. Augustus Heinz, the copper king, and his wife, Bernice, will be besought to restore her to him in death. It was Mrs. Heinz's dying wish that this be done for the sake of her child. Her lawyer, Benjamin F. Spellman, began preparation of a remarkable petition today, a few hours after his client's death, to expunge the record of the interlocutory decree already granted.

"I have always loved you, Fritz; I have always hoped something would hapen to bring you back to me"—the dying woman's words of reconciliation with her husband; the deathbed scene; her tears and embraces; his assurance of love; his promise to try to fulfill her last wish—all these will be written into the jurisprudence of the State, together with the testimony, under oath, of Mrs. Heinz's mother, her sister and the nurses who stood nearby.

Never before has the Supreme Court of New York been petitioned to expunge the record of a divorce by a voice from the grave.

"Had she lived it would have been possible for Mrs. Heinz to discontinue this action," Mr. Spellman said today. "Because of her love for Heinz and her hope that something would bring about a reconciliation, she postponed taking the final decree which might have been entered last month. She had only until April 17th to decide whether the decree would be taken. Again and again she told me: 'Wait, wait; that decree means death between my husband and me. To take it would tear my soul from its body.'

"During the last minute of her life she repeated over and over again the request that the record be expunged. I am convinced that there must be some method for the great Chancellor to reach out and destroy or seal those records."

Mrs. Heinz's body was sent this afternoon to Toledo for burial.

CHARGES UNFOUNDED

Miss Emerson Not Subjected to Cruel Treatment, Says Charge

Washington, April 3.—Charges that Miss Zeelie Emerson, the American militant suffragette, now in a British prison for window smashing, has been subjected to "cruel and unusual treatment," are unfounded, according to a report to the State Department today from Irwin B. Laughlin, charge of the American embassy at London.

Mr. Laughlin personally investigated the circumstances attending the forcible feeding of Miss Emerson. He reported that Mrs. R. M. Emerson, the prisoner's mother, has "made no complaint whatever as to her daughter's treatment and has no charge to make that the feeding by a stomach tube has been applied in a manner to cause any discomfort inseparable from its nature.

"The embassy has been observing Miss Emerson's case closely," said Mr. Laughlin, "and has replied to a number of communications from suffrage workers to the effect that the embassy could take no official steps in the case unless discrimination to the disadvantage of an American citizen could be shown. Her treatment has not been in any way different from that accorded British women who have offended in the same way, unless it be that her case has met with more leniency."

"Since she began a hunger strike, upon her imprisonment, she has in common with British offenders been fed by a stomach tube, in the presence of physicians and under their direction."

UNDERTAKER ARRESTED

Charged With Taking Money From Body of Flood Victim

Columbus, Ohio, April 3.—Oscar H. Osman, an undertaker of this city, who was arrested today charged with taking money from the body of Mrs. Sarah Sovill, a flood victim, was released on bond tonight and immediately was re-arrested for investigation. This charge does not admit of bail. Two members of the Ohio National Guard said they witnessed the finding by Osman of $265 when Mrs. Sovill's body was brought to Osman's undertaking establishment. Silas Sovill, son of the dead woman, said he had reason to believe his mother had $500 in her possession when she was drowned. Osman admitted, the police say, that he found about $265 on a corpse and that it might have belonged to Mrs. Sovill.

Decatur, Ala., April 3.—Erwin Holloway, a well known saw mill owner of Somerville, Ala., died today from pistol shot wounds sustained last night. Louise Bowling, a young woman, is under arrest charged with the murder. The shooting took place in the tenderloin district.

TARIFF SITUATION SHIFTS TO SENATE

Wilson Has Much Work Ahead of Him to Smooth Over Disputed Points.

DEMOCRATS ARE STIRRED UP

Several Senators May Not Stand for Free Wool and Sugar and Will Require Changes in Present Draft of the Bill.

Washington, April 3.—Completion of the new tariff revision bill, the character of the duty to be levied upon sugar, and the extent to which President Wilson will give the support of the administration to the completed measure, depended tonight upon the success that might attend conferences of the President to reach an agreement with Senate tariff leaders.

The tariff situation shifted to the Senate today, with the prospect of much work ahead of the chief executive to smooth over disputed points, and to bring the Senate, the House and his own wishes into harmony before the new bill is brought out to the gaze of the public. Senators Simmons, Stone and Hoke Smith, all members of the Finance Committee, had a long conference with President Wilson this evening. At its conclusion, Senator Simmons, chairman of the committee, said the conference had been in every way satisfactory to the Senate members.

A sweeping canvass of the Senate has been undertaken to determine just how far Democratic members of that body will go in support of the policies laid down by the President. The decision to put raw wool on the free list, and the threat of free sugar have stirred up the Democratic forces of the Senate to such an extent that members of the Finance Committee told the President tonight some important changes would have to be made in the present draft of the bill, if it is to meet with a cordial reception when it reaches the Senate.

The President also saw Senator Hughes, of New Jersey, member of the finance committee and a radical revisionist, and Senator John W. Kern, the Democratic leader of the Senate. His conference with Senator Kern, which followed that with members of the Finance Committee, is understood to have given the President a fairly accurate idea of the sentiment prevailing in the Senate over the proposed free wool, and reduced sugar duties; and over the sweeping reductions in other rates that have been determined upon by the House Committee on Ways and Means.

Today's developments included the practical completion of the bill by the House Ways and Means Committee, along the lines agreed to with the President. It appeared fairly certain tonight that either sugar duty would be compromised at 1 cent per pound, possibly with a provision that it should be entirely abolished in three years; or that there should be a gradual reduction of 25 per cent. per year from the existing duty until it had disappeared.

The Senate leaders have made it clear that it would be impossible to pass a bill carrying both free wool and free sugar.

The Senate leaders did not reach any general agreement with the President. The results of their conferences will be laid before the full Democratic membership of the Finance Committee at a meeting called for 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The determination of the committee then as to disputed questions will guide Senator Simmons in future conferences with the President and with Chairman Underwood, of the Ways and Means Committee.

"We went over all the debated points in the bill with the President tonight," said Senator Simmons, "and the interview was very satisfactory to the Senators. It was agreed that the Democratic members of the Finance Committee should meet tomorrow and go over the ground, preliminary to further conferences with other members of the Senate, and the President and members of the House Ways and Means Committee."

No other statement was made by Senator Simmons or by the other parties to the conference.

An intimation which has been under way for some time has brought out strong opposition to the reductions proposed by the House and sanctioned by the President in many important schedules.

It is understood that Senate leaders insist many of those be changed if the new bill is to have their support from the outset.

President Wilson made it known today to visitors that he had not settled in his own mind whether there should be one general bill or a series of schedule bills. This feature is considered of high importance both by the President and prominent Democrats in the Senate.

House leaders are prepared to enact the entire tariff revision with a single bill, but the attitude of the President will depend upon the rates that are finally agreed to upon sugar and upon certain food products, still open to debate.

Several members of the Senate Finance Committee insist they will not accept a general bill. A proposal now is under consideration between the President, the Senate, and the House leaders to have at least the wool and sugar schedules put into separate bills.

President Wilson is hopeful of having an understanding with both Senate and House, so that there may be no radical differences of opinion when Representative Underwood presents the bill to the House. Senate leaders have not received any intimation, how-

HUERTA OFFERS COMPROMISE

Agrees to the Naming of Pedro Lascurain as Provisional President to Satisfy All Factions in the Mexican Melee

El Paso, Texas, April 3.—To satisfy all factions in the Mexican melee, General Huerta has agreed to the naming of Pedro Lascurain as provisional President, said advices received here today directly from the National capital. Lascurain would serve out the uncompleted term of the late President Madero.

As minister of exterior relations in Madero's former cabinet, Lascurain is entitled to serve as next in line in view of the deaths of Madero and Vice President Suarez. The Huerta cabinet would be retained by the compromise.

This arrangement, it is said, has been offered to the Constitutionalists now fighting the Huerta government in Northern Mexico. It is declared that Governor Carranza, of Coahuila, has agreed and that the Sonora insurrectionists will fall in line. The decision of the present provisional President is said to have been occasioned by the recent uprising of Zapata in the South, which places the Huerta forces between two fires.

Mexican military men here estimate that Huerta has not more than 14,000 troops in all Mexico with which to meet the situation. This is even less than Porfiro Diaz possessed in combating the Madero revolution. Madero, on taking office, began recruiting volunteer troops with the ex-insurrecto corps as a basis. In the meantime, the regular army was not recruited to normal strength. The desertion to the opposing side of the majority of the volunteer groups, it is said, has left the actual government forces far below par.

DEFENDANT WEEPS ON STAND.

Prof. Olsen Tells of Wife's Relations With Another Man.

St. Paul, Minn., April 3.—Prof. Oscar Olsen, formerly of the University of Minnesota, who admitted he shot and killed Clyde N. Darling, a laundryman, for wrecking his home, took the witness stand this afternoon and sobbed audibly as the relations between Mrs. Olsen and Darling were wrung from him.

The court room was crowded and many wept with the defendant, who presented the posture of a broken spirited man. Mrs. Olsen buried her face in her hands and wept softly throughout her husband's testimony.

"My wife confessed to me that there had been illicit relations between herself and Darling and I warned him to keep away from my home," Olsen testified. "He continued to come despite the warning and finally succeeded in tearing down the happiness of the home.

"The night of the shooting I was alone," said the witness. "I heard a noise and went to the kitchen to investigate. I saw a man standing inside the door, and I recognized Darling.

"Oh, it's you, — — you' he said, and took a step towards me. I had my revolver and fired twice in rapid succession. A second later I saw the wrecker of my home throw his arms into the air and fall limply to the floor."

Prof. Olsen testified that he first learned of Mrs. Olsen's relations with Darling June 16th, last.

"When I returned from my office my wife told me Darling had hugged and kissed her," Olsen continued. "I saw Darling one day later in the presence of the man for whom he was working. When I accused him of insulting my wife, he turned pale. Then he recovered himself and said: 'I admit it; it's all my fault'.

"While in Clearbrook, Minn., November 21st, last, I received a message from my wife urging me to return home immediately. She met me at the door and said: 'Oscar, do I look demented? That devilish laundryman is haunting me again. He has been here sevral times and I cannot resist his overtures. Please help me to keep him from me'."

Olsen repeated the details leading to the crime. Several times during his testimony his sobbing forced an interruption. Mrs. Olsen is expected to tell her story on the stand tomorrow.

WATER NEARS TOP OF CAIRO LEVEES

Rain Falls Steadily, But Citizens Are Confident of Saving City.

THE RECORD MARK IS PASSED

Levee at Mound City, Ill., Is Weakening and May Go Out at Any Minute—The Flood Situation at Other Points

Cairo, Ill., April 3.—Rain falling in a steady downpour and flood water washing against the sacks of sand piled on the concrete levee wall, changed conditions materially here today. Although the weather change naturally would carry with it a negative outlook for the welfare of the city, a confidence seems to have sprung up among the citizens who have worked hardest to prevent Cairo's destruction that appeared to offset it. Day after day the residents have watched the flood water climb on the gauge until tonight it stood slightly above 54.6. The old record was 54.05. There is only a few inches of space between the surface of the water and the top of the concrete wall.

Ensign Melvin, in charge of the dispatch boat service between Cairo and Mound City, Ill., reported tonight that the levee was still holding at the latter place, but that the Ohio waters had backed into Cache river to an alarming height and that the levee back of the town appeared quite weak. Most of the 600 persons there are now encamped in the Court House, including two companies of guardsmen.

Situation at Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., April 3.—High winds and a beating rain made work for the flood fighters along the Mississippi river tonight difficult, but unless the disturbance is prolonged, which is not anticipated, those directing the fight do not believe the consequences will be serious. Wave washes were reported from several points, but so far as reports received here indicate, damage to the levees has been slight. Major C. M. Markham, engineer in charge of the corps of United States engineers stationed here, ascertained tonight that men in sufficient number are available at all points that might be endangered.

At Memphis the river rose one foot today, the guage at 7 o'clock showing a stage of 40.4. Vicksburg, Miss., reported 41.6 feet, a rise of 3-10th in 12 hours.

Water Falling at Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., April 3.—Though there is a large volume of water flowing under the three bridges across the Ohio river at this point, the rate of fall since the crest passed yesterday morning has been steady, though slow. Tonight, with a stage of 44.3 feet in the canal at 9 o'clock the river is nearly one foot lower than the high mark.

Conditions are rapidly returning to normal along the river front, where the damage, other than expected from the Ohio's annual spree, is nominal. Concerns situated on the river front occupy buildings constructed to withstand the water. Louisville's largest items of loss are considered as deferred gains and are charged to interrupted mail and train service for which the Ohio and Indiana floods were responsible.

Flood victims who are being cared for by the city and charity organizations become charges with almost every 40-foot stage. Except on two railroads which reach into Western Kentucky, railroad traffic from here south of the river is not and has not been interrupted.

Rain Storm at Hickman, Ky.

Hickman, Ky., April 3.—While all of the Mississippi river levees in the vicinity of Hickman are holding tonight, a severe wind and rain storm which prevailed for several hours, has caused some apprehension to those back of the embankments to the west of the city. Large forces of men are at work, however, topping the levee and United States engineers in charge of the work declare no immediate danger exists. This levee, which protects the Reel Foot basin, collapsed last year.

The city levee, which serves as a protecting barrier for the low lying sections of Hickman, is still intact.

Weather conditions tonight caused refugees housed in tents in the hills back of Hickman some discomfort. Of the 300 at the camp several are ill. Additional tents were expected today, but failed to arrive, and as a result about 70 refugees are without shelter.

Flood Fund Growing

New York, April 3.—Twenty-five thousand dollars were added to this city's flood relief fund today. The total sum now exceeds $555,000. Through the Red Cross $18,000 was raised in the past 24 hours. This included $3,300 from the cotton exchange and $2,100 contributed at Mayor Gaynor's office. The London Daily Telegraph forwarded $500. The citizens' committee, of which Alton B. Parker is chairman, added $1,900 to its fund and the Merchants' Association $750.

In response to a message from Governor Ralston, of Indianapolis, appealing for funds, Judge Parker's committee telegraphed $3,000. The committee also telegraphed $2,000 to Governor Cox, of Ohio. Jacob H. Schiff, treasurer of the New York State board of the Red Cross, announced that more than $440,000 has been raised by local Red Cross workers.

Appeals to Wilson.

Washington, April 3.—President Wilson was appealed to today to lend the expert advice of the Federal government in the financial rehabilitation of Dayton, O., necessitated by the devastating flood.

John H. Patterson, chairman of Dayton's relief committee, telegraphed the

MORGAN'S BODY IN PARIS

Funeral Car Opened and Wreaths Placed on Coffin by American Ambassadors and Friends—N. Y. Offices Reopen

Paris, April 3.—The special train bearing the body of J. P. Morgan arrived at the Gare De Lyon in Paris at 11:50 o'clock tonight. It was met by the American ambassador, Myron T. Herrick, the secretary of the embassy, R. W. Bliss, Mrs. J. H. Harges, Gabriel Jaray, secretary of the Franco-American Committee; Junius George Morgan, a nephew, and Jacquez Seligman.

The funeral car was opened and wreaths were placed on the coffin by the ambassador, Mrs. Harges, M. Jaray, for the Franco-American Committee, and others. The train left at midnight for Batignolles, where it was switched to the Havre line.

Morgan Offices Reopen

New York, April 3.—J. P. Moragn & Company opened for business today for the first time since the former head of the banking house died last Monday in Rome. The notice of Mr. Morgan's death was taken from the front door and the offices gave no indication of the event that had caused a suspension of the firm's far-reaching activities for the past three days.

The New York Chamber of Commerce, of which Mr. Morgan was for 50 years a member and four terms its vice president, held a memorial meeting today in his honor. The chamber adopted a resolution placing on its records "sentiments of deep reverence for the memory of John Pierpont Morgan, man of character," and "its enduring appreciation of the dominant force for good which he wielded through a long life of masterful endeavor and far-reaching accomplishment."

Eulogistic addresses were delivered by John Claflin, president of the chamber; Senator Elihu Root, Joseph H. Choate, Robert W. DeForest, Seth Low and Frank A. Vanderlip.

Every seat in the great meeting room of the chamber was taken and many were compelled to stand. Every important financial institution in this city, as well as every important mercantile house, was represented.

AT STOCKHOLDERS' EXPENSE.

Directors of Lead Co., Are Charged With Living Luxuriously.

New York, April 3.—Hunting trips, private cars, palatial residences and ornate office buildings are luxuries which directors of the St. Joseph Lead Company, a $20,000,000 corporation, enjoyed at the stockholders' expense in the course of an alleged mismanagement of the company's affairs, according to the plaintiffs in a suit filed in the Supreme Court today asking for an accounting of all funds, together with restitution if the stockholders' charges are warranted.

The St. Joseph Lead Company is declared in the court action to be one of the biggest lead corporations in the country. John A., Belle, John H., and Mary B. Holmes and Florence Holmes Woodruff, holders of about $500,000 worth of stock, are the plaintiffs. They are residents of St. Louis.

Besides the reputed luxuries, it is alleged that the directors profited handsomely by using the St. Joseph Lead Company to favor the Mississippi & Bonne Terre Railroad Company, Bonne Terre Cattle & Farming Company, Bonne Terre Farms & Mines Company and the Doe Run Lead Company, all of Bonne Terre, Mo., and the Sherman Trust Company, in this city.

The demand for an accounting is directed against Dwight A. Jones, president; R. L. Parsons, general manager; Edward Smith, vice president; Hugh M. Camp, treasurer, and Edward H. Kidder, Daniel K. Catlin, Charles M. Chapin and Clifton H. Crain, directors.

FIGHT GOES TO COURTS.

Tennessee Legislature Passes Quorum Breaking Bill Over Veto.

Nashville, Tenn., April 3.—The action of the State Senate and House today in passing the quorum-breaking bill and the election bill over the Governor's veto will transfer the fight which has resulted in the absence of 34 members of the Legislature from the State, from the Legislature to the courts. In passing the two bills over the Governor's veto the House refused to note the absence of enough members to break a quorum and they were counted as "present, but not voting". This established a precedent in this State. In the Senate a parliamentary inquiry to ascertain if a quorum was present in the House was voted down by a strict party vote after the speaker had allowed a motion to appeal from the decision of the chair. In the House the "law enforcement" bills, intended to give the Governor greater power in the enforcement of the prohibition laws, were called up and defeated. The determination of Governor Hooper to push these bills resulted in the new legislative alignment with Shelby county voting with regular Democrats. Prior to the recess the Shelby delegation voted with the fusionists. In killing the bills the House again ignored the absence of a quorum.

3,000 OUT OF WORK

Big Copper Plant in Cananea Is Forced to Shut Down

Naco, Ariz., April 3.—Nearly 3,000 Mexicans and Americans were thrown out of employment yesterday by the closing down of the Cananea Consolidated Copper Company plant. United States Consul Simpich left today to investigate the conditions.

State troops control Cananea, 25 miles below this point, as a result of a recent attack, but General Ojeda's Federals continue to hold the Mexican port of Navo, interfering with the shipments of fuel and food to the big American-owned mining camp.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 3.—Charles Kornocramp, a watchman, was killed, four policemen and six firemen were hurt and property valued at $75,000 was destroyed when the plant of the Woods & Lloyd Company, manufacturers of glass house supplies, burned on the Southside today. The fire resulted from a gas explosion in one of the buildings.

GERMAN DIRIGIBLE LANDS IN FRANCE

Military Airship Zeppelin IV Is Seized by French Authorities.

INCIDENT CAUSES A PANIC

German Officers Declare They Became Lost in the Clouds and Were Unaware They Had Crossed French Frontier

Luneville, France, April 3.—The German military dirigible airship Zeppelin IV landed in the military parade grounds here today and was seized by the French authorities.

The incident has caused tremendous excitement, notwithstanding that the German officers aboard the airship explained that they had been lost in the clouds and did not know they had crossed the French frontier.

Inhabitants of the Eastern frontier regions of France have been much agitated the last few weeks over reports that German dirigibles had been observed or heard nightly hovering over the forts. But the stories, like those of the phantom airship of England, never were properly substantiated.

The people of Luneville were considerably startled shortly before noon today when a brownish yellow airship appeared at a great height in the clouds, coming from the direction of Nancy. The airship was lost to view, but re-appeared an hour later. It was apparent that the pilot was having a battle with the wind and that he was making an effort to reach the earth. Finally a safe landing was made in the parade grounds, where two squadrons of cavalry were drilling. The cavalrymen rode up and formed a cordon. They caught the ropes thrown from the dirigible and securely moored it.

The local authorities and Brigadier General Antide Leon Lescot immediately were summoned and were closely followed by a huge crowd of excited people. It required the efforts of two companies of infantry to keep the indignant populace at a safe distance.

Zeppelin IV, which is of the latest and largest model, carried 10 passengers, of whom four were officers in uniform, a Prussian captain and lieutenant and two Wurttemburger lieutenants.

The captain explained to General Lescot that the Zeppelin was undergoing a test prior to being taken over by the war department. They left Friederischafen early in the morning bound for the Grand Duchy of Baden.

With the intention of making an ascension trial they had mounted to a height of 3,000 metres (about 9,750 feet) and had lost their course in the clouds. They were carried along by a strong east wind and observing the cavalry thought they had reached Saar-Brucken. As they were short of gasoline they decided to land. They did not know they had crossed the French frontier.

The chief officer of the engineer corps at Luneville removed the magnetos from the engines so that the airship could not get under way and the cabin was searched for photographic apparatus, sketches, or similar articles. Nothing of that nature, however, was found.

The German officers were permitted to telephone to Friedrichshafen for a supply of hydrogen and for mechanicians.

Immense Airship Seen

Vesoul, France, April 3.—An immense dirigible balloon, which appeared to be a German Zeppelin airship, was seen today by a number of French officers maneuvering at a great height over the department of the Haute Salone, near the Franco-German frontier. It had seven persons on board.

Their vessel passed swiftly over Passivant, Larochere, Selles, and Vauvilliers, and finally disappeared in the direction of the Vosges mountains, separating France and Germany.

Public Opinion.

Paris, April 3.—While first news of the landing of the Zeppelin on French soil caused a great sensation, other accounts gave the incident a somewhat diminished importance and public opinion tonight is inclined to view the plight of the Germans as rather ludicrous.

The explanation that the officers lost themselves is generally accepted. It was announced tonight that the minister of war would make no decision with regard to the Zeppelin until he had received the report of the officer sent to Luneville to investigate the situation.

PARDON FOR PATTERSON?

Cash Register President May Get It for Work in Flood.

Washington, April 3.—The Department of Justice officials said today they will not consider the suggestion of pardoning John H. Patterson, president of the National Cash Register Company and under sentence to prison for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, unless he makes application himself or shows that he is favorable to pardon proceedings. The only thing before the department now is a telegram to President Wilson from friends of Patterson urging his pardon because of his splendid relief work during the Dayton flood. It is indicated that the government must have assurances that the pardon will be accepted if granted.

NEW LINE TO POLLOCKSVILLE

Would Touch at Trenton, Jones County—A Surprise Marriage

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., April 3.—At a meeting of the board o fdirectors of local Chamber of Commerce a committee was appointed to confer with officials of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad and the leading citizens of Pollocksville, in Jones county, relative to the extending of the A. C. L. from the terminal of the Weldon-Kinston branch here to the Jones county town. The line which the members of the chamber desire to have built from this city to Pollocksville as contemplated would touch at Trenton, the county seat of Jones, and would put the richest section of that county in closer touch with the outside world. The advantages of the Kinston-Pollocksville line would be numerous, the local business men contend. Besides giving this city a port at deep water on the Trent river, it would allow rail connection with other points to the Jones county towns not now enjoyed by them and would afford better shipping facilities to the majority of the farmers of a large and rich section.

Mr. A. J. Haddock, of Trenton, N. C., and Miss Mamie Tilghman, of this city, were the principals in a surprise marriage here yesterday afternoon. The ceremony was performed at the home of Rev. B. P. Smith, pastor of the Christian church, and the couple immediately left in an automobile to drive through the country to the groom's home. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Tilghman, and is widely known. The groom is a prominent young farmer of Jones county.

SUFFRAGETTES WIN VICTORY

Miss Zeelie Emerson, on Hunger Strike, Will Be Given Examination

London, April 3.—American suffragettes who are fighting for the release from jail of Miss Zeelie Emerson, of Jack, Mich., scored their first official success today when Irwin B. Laughlin, the American Charge d'Affaires, asked the British Foreign Office to expedite the request made by Mrs. Emerson to Home Secretary McKenna for permission to have her daughter examined by her own physician.

On Mr. Laughlin's assurance that the American embassy could take no steps in the matter until Mrs. Emerson's request was in the hands of Secretary McKenna, a delegation composed of Miss Scott-Troy and Baron Von Horst, of San Francisco, and Mrs. Mary Ford, of New York, invaded the inner lobby of the House of Commons, where they persuaded Joseph Wedgewood, a Liberal member, personally to place the missive in the hands of Secretary McKenna. They then informed Mr. Laughlin of their successful onslaught on the House of Commons, and the latter at once visited the foreign office.

A member of the House of Commons, who is a close friend of Secretary McKenna, says the latter is quite willing to grant Mrs. Emerson's request, but he probably would object to the selection of Dr. Manzell Moullin, whom Mr. Emerson desires to be chosen. Dr. Moullin is a bitter opponent to forcible feeding and the home office hitherto has refused him admission to the jails.

VESSEL WAS LOST

But Specimens Obtained in Arctic Regions Were All Saved

Boston, April 3.—It was announced today that the vessel which John E. Thayer, of this city, sent from Nome, Alaska, three years ago to obtain zoological and botanical specimens in the Arctic and sub-Arctic regions, has been wrecked on the Siberian coast. Captain Koren, leader of the expedition, sent the news in a message to Mr. Thayer, but added that all the material obtained was saved and cached in Siberia.

Mr. Thayer will place some of the specimens in his private museum and give the others to Harvard University.

The Arctic party, five white men and two Eskimos, had visited the Islands of Alaska, Bering sea and the Arctic ocean before their ship was lost.

..Theatrical..

Seats will go on sale tomorrow morning at Plummer's for the second minstrelsy event of the season—the appearance at the Academy Monday night of the well known Coburn Minstrels. It will be one of the merriest and most popular of all attractions and comes highly praised by the press. In addition to the tributes already cited comes the following from the Tampa (Fla.) Tribune:

"J. A. Coburn's Minstrels are making their annual visit to Tampa and played to two capacity New Year houses at the Greeson theatre yesterday. The company has been greatly improved since last season and presents a number of new acts, which prove very popular with the average audience. The music is better and the vocal strength enhanced this year. Some of the old members of the company remain with it, but Mr. Coburn has secured a number of new artists who add novelty to the show. Charlie Gano and Nick Glynn are the principal fun-makers, Gano being inimitable in some of his new witticisms and making several telling hits on recent National political developments. Glynn is never so funny as when he is apparently trying to be serious. The "Progressive Political Oratory" by Gano and Glynn made the biggest hit last night. Leslie D. Berry is again the suave interlocutor and has his same fine baritone. The company met a big reception at both performances yesterday."

A Brilliant Dramatic Event.

Because it is both human and humorous, "Bought and Paid for", which William A. Brady, Ltd., will present at the Academy Wednesday night of next week, is George Broadhurst's greatest play and moreover it takes rang among American plays recently produced. Notwithstanding its commercial title, it is not one of those tiresome business plays in which the stock ticker is the villain. There is no business except the trafficking in a woman's ideals and these in the end rise superior to mere dollars.

Wilmington theatre-goers should certainly realize the importance of this theatrical event before it is too late. It is a regular New York attraction and production.

Special Release at Bijou.

A big spectacular, costly two-reel specially release film will feature today's wonderful bill at the Bijou. When it comes to affording the amusement-lovers of Wilmington the very latest and very best—just as soon as the films appear in the largest New York moving picture theatres— the popular Bijou is always up to the very second. So today it will make a remarkable offering in Lubin's special two-reel release film, "An Adventure on the Mexican Border." The story told deals with both the American and Mexican armies, and most of the scenes were taken right on the border, with the United States troops in camp on one side and the Mexicans on the other. For that reason it is especially interesting.

There will be other big film features today at the Bijou, thus adding to the festive nature of the day. Cine's latest, a high class comedy will be a star in "No Fool Like an Old Fool." It is a laugh from start to finish of the most wholesome type, too.

Of course, the Bijou is the solid comfort spot, being freely and hygienically ventilated.

Five big feature pictures, including Edison's "Kathleen Mavourneen," a new song by Harry Harris and always delightful music by The Grand orchestra will be the offering at this popular little playhouse today and such an offering should pack the house at each and every performance.

Everybody knows what "Kathleen Mavourneen" is and this sweet story will be given a faithful and beautiful production on the screen. Then another feature will be "The $20,000 Corot," a famous painting which was stolen and which was found after the criminal had been run to earth. These two will be the features but there will be three others and all of them will be up to the usual high standard of Grand productions. Afternoon or night the theatre is delightfully pleasant and is one of the most inviting spots in Wilmington.

SIR THMOAS IS GAME

Will Issue Unconditional Challenge to N. Y. Yacht Club

London, April 3.—Sir Thomas Lipton, undaunted by the refusal of the New York Yacht Club to accept the conditions he proposed in his recent challenge for the America's cup, has decided, according to the Evening News, to issue an unconditional challenge.

Sir Thomas Lipton gave the following statement to the Associated Press today:

"Ever since the New York Yacht Club rejected the terms proposed in my recent challenge, I have been considering the sending of an unconditional challenge for a series of races. I was just about to take up the details with the Royal Ulster Yacht Club when I heard of the death of J. Pierpont Morgan and suspended the matter, but I will resume its consideration in a few days."

She carries 83 life boats, 70 of which can be utilized even if the ship has a heavy list, or during a storm, as they may be launched from either side. In the 70 boats accommodation is provided for all the 4,050 passengers and 1,200 crew. Some of the life boats are fitted with motors. Two other similar vessels are to be constructed by the same company.

J. P. Morgan's Property in Cook County Expected to Yield $10,000

Chicago, April 3.—J. Pierpont Morgan's property in Cook county is expected to yield an inheritance tax of $10,000, according to estimates made today in the office of tax collector. County Judge Owens has appointed William Preston Harrison appraiser of the Morgan holdings in Illinois.

Morgan is said to have large holdings in the Pullman Company, International Harvest Company and Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad, in addition to $17,000,000 worth of stock in the Chicago City Railway.

ATLANTIC COAST LINE — ¶ Personal & other Items From General Offices Here

Beginning with this issue of The Star and continuing daily, or as often as the amount of news merits, this paper will publish a column devoted entirely to the interests of the Atlantic Coast Line clerks. A column of this kind was started last year, but was discontinued in a short time. It proved very popular, however, and in accordance with the wishes of The Star's patrons will be recommenced.

In it will be chronicled the daily happenings of the clerks, and anything else pertinent to those employed by the Coast Line.

Mr. Geo. P. Russell, who has had a number of years experience in newspaper work, will be in charge of this department. Any items of interest called to his attention will be appreciated and will be accorded the promptest possible attention.

For obvious reasons no open letters concerning the Atlantic Coast Line, or its management, will be published in this column.

Col. A. O. Osborne, of the Claim Department, is attending court in Lumberton.

The April term of Superior Court has cleared its usual toll of "victims" from these offices for jury service.

Mr. McB. Wilson, of the Auditor of Freight Receipts office, has returned from a short visit in Washington.

Messrs. F. F. Peschau and A. J. Marshburn, both employed in the Car Accountant's office, have resumed their duties after being off for several months on sick leave.

Mr. V. C. Bordeaux, the popular head of the Freight Check Bureau, has been forced to relinquish his duties for a short time owing to ill health. It is earnestly hoped that he will soon be in condition again and be able to return to his office.

The many friends of Mr. L. R. Pigford, of the Revising Bureau, will be pleased to learn that he is rapidly recovering from the effects of an operation for appendicitis. Mr. Pigford will leave in a few days for his home in Kerr, N. C., but will not resume his duties in the office until early Fall, acting on the advice of his physicians.

When interviewed yesterday afternoon concerning his departure for Brunswick, Ga., Mr. T. O. Green, alias "Pomp", denied emphatically any intention of leaving and A. C. L. fandom again breathed normally. Messrs. Bundy and Ludlow signed contracts last night and will leave about Thursday next. It is with great regret that the fellows see these two stars leave and the best wishes of all the clerks go with them.

For the past week petitions have been circulated throughout the offices requesting the management to change the office hours during the Summer months. These petitions are arranged in a form which gives the clerks opportunity to express their choice as to having the lunch period shortened to a half hour, hour, or to continue at the present arrangement which allows one hour and a half. The time thus saved at noon will be cut off the afternoon period. The signatures thus far attached to the petitions seem to indicate a general desire for the half hour lunch period and discontinue work for the day at 5 o'clock. There is little doubt that the extra hour in the Summer afternoons would prove very popular, but this would necessitate the carrying of lunches, or a hurried lunch in a restaurant. However, at this time little is known as to the manner in which the management considers the desirability of any change. The petitions merely express the sentiments of the employes, and speculation is still rife as to the outcome of the movement, but little doubt is entertained that the railorad company, with their usual interest in the welfare of the clerks, will give their petitions careful consideration.

LOCAL DOTS.

—The local Typographical Union has contributed $5 to the aid of the flood sufferers in Ohio. The amount has been forwarded to the Dayton Typographical Union.

—A building permit has been issued to the Southeastern Realty Co., for the erection of a two-story, eight-room dwelling on 15th street, between Rankin and Grace, estimated cost, $3,700.

—Funds from Pythians for the relief of the Ohio flood sufferers are coming in right lively now from all parts of the United States. Capt. Thos. D. Meares, Supreme Master of Exchequer, yesterday received from Boston, Mass., a check for $685 and a number of smaller checks from other States.

—Some time ago a wheel was stolen from the small son of Mr. R. W. Farmer, of the A. C. L. offices, and yesterday Master Ed Lea Taylor spied a negro boy on the bicycle and called Patrolman Long's attention to it. The negro, Virgil Simmons, was arrested forthwith and the wheel recovered.

—The deeds filed for record yesterday were: M. L. Starkey to L. D. Ganey and wife, for $100 and other considerations, lot on the east side of Front street, 232 feet north of Meares, 32x100 feet in size; Paul Armstrong and wife to Annie Gore, wife of R. F. Gore, lot on west side of 10th street, 43 feet north of Chesnut.

—Ernest Merritt, the crazy negro of Magnolia, who has been in jail here for some time, was taken to the union station yesterday, a ticket purchased and two officers attempted to put him aboard the train for home, but he was hard to handle. The conductor refused to accept him as a passenger unattended, so he was taken back to jail until last night when Deputy Sheriffs Kelly and Reynolds left with him for Magnolia.

—Work of remodelling the front of the Gaylord-Platt-Haar store, No. 208 North Front street, has been begun and will be pushed to rapid completion. The contractor expects to complete the job in about two weeks. The front will be one of the handsomest of any store in the State. The firm has also decided to provide a ladies' rest room in the rear of the store, which will be especially appreciated by the shoppers coming in here from the surrounding section.

White Gun Club, Philadelphia, won the National amateur trap shooting championship from a field of 149 wing shots, representing the leading clubs in the United States. A stiff easterly cross wind blew over the traps all day.

A. Heil, of the Lehigh Valley Gun Club, Allentown, Pa., was second with 169, and R. L. Spott, of the New York Athletic Club, who won the preliminary yesterday, was third, with 167.

There were prizes for the 10 highest scores and three of the all-American Olympic team. Spotts, Hendrickson and Billings were among the prize winners, the latter taking 10th place after shooting off a tie with four other competitors with scores of 164 each.

Nashville, Tenn., April 3.—Earl Hanson, a pitcher on the Vanderbilt baseball team and a medical student at the university, died at a local infirmary this afternoon from spinal meningitis. The Gold Dust Twins' Philosophy

WE were amused to hear the praise a grocer paid to Gold Dust ways. Of all the many cleaning "stunts", he picked the Gold Dust Twins at once. "I find," he chuckled, "that they do the work of many more than TWO.

"My customers are mostly wives, who have to bargain all their lives; each penny of the household fund, is counted, and the wasteful shunned. For instance, take the cleaning game: Not all the cleansers work the same. Some seem to merely rub for naught, and some give out, no sooner bought.

"With Gold Dust, all my people state, the work of cleaning house goes great. It does so many clever tasks; it does, in fact, whatever asked. From kitchen, through and through, to hall; upstairs and down, the porch and all. Wherever dust and dirt collect, it has a marvelous effect.

"A 'Home, Sweet Home' is one, I say, wherein the Gold Dust fellows play. Their work is fun to them. They start at dawn, with some magician's art, and with the sinking of the sun the last mean job of work is done.

DEATH OF ROBERT M. PHILLIPS

His Passing in Greensboro is Generally Deplored—Friends Leave Greensboro to Attend the Funeral Today.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., April 3.—The death of Robert Masten Phillips at Carthage Wednesday night brought sorrow to associates and friends in Greensboro, where he was widely known and universally loved. Not even his closest friends were prepared for the message which came here about 5 o'clock last night, announcing simply: "R. M. Phillips died at 6 this evening." Later information indicated that death was caused immediately by heart failure, superinduced by chronic gastritis. He was conscious until death and just a few minutes before the last life spark died he was laughing and talking with his brother, Jos. M. Phillips.

It was announced in a message from Carthage this morning that the funeral would be held from the Methodist church at that place Friday afternoon at 2 and that interment would be in the cemetery of that place. A number of Greensboro people, including members of the staff of the Greensboro Daily News, of which paper Mr. Phillips was associate editor, left here this afternoon to attend the funeral. On the same train went many beautiful floral designs, sent as last tokens of esteem and love by Greensboro friends, and an elaborate and lovely creation from the members of the Daily News staff. There was also a large and beautiful design from the composing room boys, who knew "Bob" as a practical printer who had risen from the ranks. And as such they loved him.

It was only last week that Mr. Phillips determined to go to the country place where now resides his aged father and a brother for a short rest. He had not been well since the adjournment of the Legislature, where he served as reading clerk to the Senate, but no one believed that his condition was in any sense critical. When he left he realized that he was a sick man, but was firm in the belief that the influence of the balmy Spring among the sand hills would do him good. In search of health he sought the place of his cradle, the place where his aged father now lives and where he had thought, when tired of newspaper life, he would go to spend his declining years. His sweetest thought, known well to his associates, were of the "farm" and the loved ones there.

"Bob" Phillips, had he lived 19 more days, would have been 48 years of age. He was born April 1, 1865 in Moore county, near Carthage. His parents were M. S. and Celia Phillips. His early youth was spent at Carthage, he attending the public schools there until 14 years of age. At the age of 15 he entered that school of schools, the printing office. First his fingers lingered over the type boxes of the old Carthage Pine Knot and it was in this office that the ambition to be a newspaperman was moulded. Later he was with the Jonesboro Leader and the Siler City Progress. Returning to the trade he worked in Goldsboro and in Stewart's printing house at Winston during the time that firm was employed as State printers.

It was in 1897 that he came to Greensboro with the Greensboro Telegram, first working at the case and later becoming editor. During his connection with the Telegram he served two terms as a member of the Greensboro Board of Aldermen. From here he went to Raleigh and was city editor and editor of the Raleigh Morning Post. With the discontinuance of that paper he returned to Greensboro in 1905 as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. The call of the linotypes soon lured him back into the newspaper game and from here he went to Newbern, being associated with Owen Dunn in the publication of the Sun. From Newbern he went to Sanford to aid in the establishment of the Lee County News and in the Fall of 1909 he came to Greensboro to be associate editor of the Greensboro Daily News, which had been re-organized from the Industrial News in the Summer of that year.

Mr. Phillips was reading clerk in the House of Representatives in 1909 and in the recent Legislature was reading clerk of the Senate. He was a member of the Masonic order, Knights of Pythias and Elks. He also was a member of the Methodist church and as a member of the Methodist Conference quartette took part in all of the North Carolina conferences. His membership was in the Methodist church at Carthage, though in Greensboro he attended Centenary church.

Mr. Phillips was prominent in newspaper organizations and a past president of the State Press Association. At his death he was a member of the executive association of that body. He was also among the foremost movers in the good roads fight and a member of the executive committee of the State Good Roads Association.

Besides the aged father he is survived by four brothers, Louis Phillips, of Atlanta, editor of the Insurance Herald; Ben S. Phillips, of Savannah; George Phillips, of Greensboro, and Joe H. Phillips, of Carthage. There is one half-brother, Numa Phillips, and three half- sisters, Misses Carrie, Nancy and Willie, who live at Carthage.

In Robert M. Phillips the hand of death has removed one of the most jovial, kind hearted, good natured of men. He was a highly capable newspaper man and as an editor was able and logical, with a style which was polished and effective. He was a true and loyal friend and a light and inspiration to the boys who labored daily and nightly by his side. Truly a prince of the Fourth Estate has fell on eternal sleep.

DRUGGIST RECOMMENDS

Vinol for Run-down People

If any one person should know the value of medicines it is the druggist who dispenses them and from our experience we want to say if people in this vicinity only knew the value of Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic (without oil) at this season of the year, we would not be able to supply the demand.

This is because Vinol is a combination of the two most world famed tonics, namely, the medicinal curative elements of cods' livers without the oil, and iron for the blood.

Vinol tones up the digestive organs, purifies and enriches the blood, promotes healthful sleep and a normal appetite.

Old people, delicate children, rundown, overworked and tired women, should try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.—Robt. R. Bellamy, druggist, Wilmington, N. C.

DAY'S DOINGS IN RALEIGH

Death of R. M. Phillips Generally Regretted—Lawn Grass Seed Sale Stopped—Several New Enterprises Chartered.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., April 3.—The people of Raleigh were especially shocked and grieved at the news of the death of Robert M. Phillips, reading clerk of the State Senate and associate editor of the Greensboro News, who died at the home of his father, near Carthage, last night. He lived in Raleigh a number of years, first as chief clerk of the State department of insurance, and later as a member of the editorial staff of the Morning Post. He seemed in especially robust health during his stay here for the Legislature and never missed a session of the Senate in his service as reading clerk.

While Joseph L. Seawell, clerk of the Supreme Court, is steadily improving, his physicians say it will be a month or longer before he is able to be at his desk again in the event he has no backset. Of course, there will be danger of a relapse for some time yet. It will be something like ten days, his physicians say, before he can take any solid food.

The State Department of Agriculture sent an inspector to the Five and Ten Cent Store here today to stop the sale of "Standard Lawn Seed" on sale there not only without the seed company having paid its annual license tax for the sale of seeds in the State, but with the quality of the seed, according to the department botanist, Miss I. O. Tillman, very much below standard fixed by the North Carolina pure seed law. The State Department is making special efforts to keep the North Carolina markets clear of impure seed and Commissioner Graham says very satisfactory results are attained.

The A. & B. Moving Picture Supply Co., of Raleigh, was chartered today with $25,000 capital authorized and $300 subscribed by B. S. Aronson, O. R. Browne and others for originating moving picture films, handling supplies and conducting "movie" theatres, parks and other amusements.

Other charters are to Jones & Gentry Co., Winston-Salem, capital $25,000 authorized and $5,000 subscribed by J. A. Jones, J. J. Gentry and others for shoe business. The B. F. Carpenter Sons Co., of Stanley, Gaston county, capital $50,000 authorized and $5,600 subscribed by Mrs. B. F. Carpenter and others. The McCabe-Dodd Co., Oriental, Pamlico county, capital $25,000 authorized and $5,000 subscribed by L. F. McCabe and others.

ANOTHER EDITOR PASSES

Mr. James G. Boylin for Many Years Editor of Wadesboro M. & I.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Wadesboro, N. C April 3.—Mr. James G. Boylin, editor and owner of the Messenger and Intelligencer, died here this morning after an illness of three months. He had been unwell for some time and three weeks ago pneumonia developed and his weakened condition could not withstand the attack.

Mr. Boylin was in his 50th year, having been born the second day of May, 1863. He was a native of Wadesboro but moved to Monroe when a young man and learned the printer's business with his brother, Mr. W. J. Boylin, the proprietor of the Monroe Enquirer. He came to Wadesboro 26 years ago and bought the Messenger, a paper published here by Mr. John Lowe. Soon after this he bought of the late Sperry W. Hearn the Intelligencer and combined the two. Since that time he has been an active publisher of the town papers. He was recognized as one of the best newspaper men in the State and was elected president of the State Press Association in 1891. In 1904 he was a delegate to the National Democratic Convention and was chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee of Anson for many years. He had been for a number of years a member of the board of trustees of the State School for the Blind at Raleigh. Mr. Boylin was married in 1889 to Miss Deluke Blair, of Monroe, and of this union Messrs. R. B., R. L., Frank, Paul, John, Darks and James G. Boylin survive. In 1904 he was married to Mrs. Lizzie Alberta Ingram, the daughter of the late Judge McCorkle, of Newton. To them were born two daughters, Betsy and Harriet Boylin. Two brothers also survive, they being Messrs. W. J. Boylin, of Nashville, Tenn., and H. C. Boylin, of Lumberton. The surviving sisters are Mrs. M. I. Ross, of Wadesboro; Mrs. Caroline Knight, of Durham; Mrs. E. D. Robinson, of Jacksonville, Fla.

Mr. Boylin was a successful newspaper man and a true citizen. He was always loyal to the Democratic party and did great service with his paper and his personal efforts in maintaining good government. His paper was always a business enterprise and he never allowed it to be used for any purpose save the common good. He was a good-natured man and to quarrel with him was almost an impossibility. He held no malice in heart toward any one but lived at peace with all the world. Though his death was expected, news of it came as a distinct shock to the town this morning for he was a friend to all who knew him. The funeral will be conducted from the residence tomorrow at 3 o'clock and the burial will be in Eastview cemetery.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Elon College, N. C., April 3.—Elon added Weaverville's scalp to others here today in what should have been a shut-out game. No score was made till the sixth, when Elon made one by Joyner's slow bunt and Ingle's three-bagger. Elon added another in the seventh by Bruce's double and Atkinson's long hit to center, and a third in the eighth on Joyner's single and Newman's duplicate to right field. Weaverville scored twice in the ninth, on Newman's wild throw, Ingle's mistaken choice and Herwood's passed ball. Atkinson twirled for Elon and yielded six scattering hits, striking out 10. Culberson, Lenoir's last year star, did the work for Weaverville, striking out 14. Only 34 men facing him, but he allowed hits to be bunched and of the two and three-base denominations. Score.

Durham, N. C., April 3.—Trinity today defeated Amherst 7 to 0. Kanipe pitched a good game for Trinity, but was touched for nine scattered and scratch hits. No great slugging was done by either team. Trinity netted 12 hits. Kanipe was supported well, and Amherst lost many fine chances of scoring by the excellent fielding of the Trinity players. Proudfoot pitched a fair game for Amherst, but his support was not perfect. Trinity getting several effective hits which with proper fielding could have been prevented. Stork and Cupid Cunning Plotters

Many a New Home will Have a Little Sunbeam to Brighten it.

There is usually a certain degree of dread in every woman's mind as to the probable pain, distress and danger of child-birth. But, thanks to a most remarkable remedy known as Mother's Friend, all fear is banished and the period is one of unbounded, joyful anticipation.

Mother's Friend is used externally. It is a most penetrating application, makes the muscles of the stomach and abdomen pliant so they expand easily and naturally without pain, without distress and with none of that peculiar nausea, nervousness and other symptoms that tend to weaken the prospective mother. Thus Cupid and the stork are held up to veneration; they are rated as cunning plotters to herald the coming of a little sunbeam to gladden the hearts and brighten the homes of a host of happy families.

There are thousands of women who have used Mother's Friend, and thus know from experience that it is one of our greatest contributions to healthy, happy motherhood. It is sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle, and is especially recommended as a preventive of caking breasts and all other such distresses.

Write to Bradfield Regulator Co., 131 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their very valuable book to expectant mothers. Get a bottle of Mother's Friend to-day.

Who croaked the G. O. P.?

Those who love humanity are charitable.

No woman likes to be called "poor thing."

No bachelor will acknowledge that he is happy.

Why not bunch our hits so Wilmington can win?

Men ought always to be such good citizens that they can get endorsed for an office.

The man who doesn't want to work because he is educated is ignorant of the purpose of education.

Senator LaFollette is a Democrat in the wrong pew. His brother Bill is a Democrat with the true view.

Let the Turks cheer up. They will have Summer time in which to move from Europe into Asia.

The young man has everything before him, but he will not get what he wants till he leaves his bad habits behind him.

Wilson surely did put one over on Big Business when he gave it to understand that the government is not in cahoot with anybody.

Says the Chester (Pa.) Republican: "Keep sweet and carry a little sunshine with you." Wear a smile but never take a smile if you expect to keep sweet.

All Democrats who helped to make the fight last November are progressive Democrats. It is quite possible for a Republican to become a progressive Democrat.

The greatest triumphs are those which result from enthusiasm. Get enthusiastic over Wilmington and its possibilities and you will be a live wire in her progress.

A scientist insists that in time the human race will be toothless. When that time comes, however, Georgians will go right on biting every man who is foolish enough to "swap" horses with them.

Behold! How the affairs of the world proceed as if they did not depend at all upon the life of the biggest man in the Universe. It is strange how ego keeps up when men can readily see that if they should die nobody would know it unless they see it in the papers.

The Mount Olive Tribune says Mount Olive wants the Durham & Southern. It would seem that the Durham & Southern would want Mount Olive. It is one of the best towns in eastern North Carolina and is located in one of the finest sections of the State.

How would you like to have the government competing with you in your business? The express companies make no bones about acknowledging that in a few months the government's parcel post has taken away from them about 25 per cent. of their small package business.

A correspondent inquires in the New York Times: "Why is it that men are naturally better looking than women?" Tut; tut! and also tuti-fruti! Don't answer the foolish inquiry of an individual who evidently is either cross-eyed of is afflicted with obfuscated vision or grotesque observation.

Our idea of a faction is that it consists mostly of some fellow who has started something so he can get an office. A faction consists of party men who permit themselves to be harnessed up for a fight in which nobody comes out on top but the fellow who happens to get what he is after.

Turkey's neighbors were insignificant in their individual nationality, but mighty in alliance. This is a powerful illustration of the effectiveness of co-operation. What one is not able to do alone can be accomplished by many united in a common cause. Once more: "In union there is strength." Get together and pull together for Wilmington.

THE COMING COTTON CROP

Already the world is figuring on the South's next cotton crop. It is predicted in cotton circles in New York that the acreage will be largely increased, but the one drawback to that is the scarcity of labor. In every State where cotton is grown the temptation to increase asreage is great because of the good price that the staple is bringing up to the very time of pitching the crop.

With cotton selling above 12 cents, it is taken that the demand is good and will continue so throughout the world, but there is no certainty about that. The war seems to be over in Europe, but the money stringency there is likely to continue for some time. China needs a loan of $100,000,000 and doubtless Turkey and the Balkan countries will need hundreds of millions while the effects of the war have been such as to have taxed all the European powers to preserve themselves from panic. Generally the financial situation in Europe has been kept well in hand, but there will be a great demand for money. Japan is to be among the big borrowers.

In the United States the money demand is immense. Development and progress in the South and in all portions of the country is making a big drain on the financiers. Canada's development has been so rapid and immense that there is a money stringency there. It is said the financial situation there is such that Canada's development will now have to proceed along more cautious lines. The South now is a great market for capital, but it seems that not only the industries of the entire country are making huge demands but all the railroads from the Atlantic to the Pacific are making expenditures on the largest kind of scale. There is no doubt that all this world-wide demand for money will make money tight for sometime.

What has that got to do with cotton? Some of the New York cotton men already say that conservatism prevails on the part of spinners, "due principally to economic and political reasons, and also a feeling of instability as to the future permeates nearly all branches of business." If that keeps up, the tightness of money may mean lower cotton next Fall, if the South goes mad on cotton again. However, it is stated in New York cotton circles that "the South is making its best efforts to grow a large crop, as cotton at present prices is the best paying proposition for the Southern farmers, and unless we are reasonably assured that the next crop will be short of requirements, we could not advise our friends to make purchases at present levels." Henry Clews & Co., report:

"The high price which the farmer received for his last crop, together with the fact that quotations for spots have been maintained right up to a new planting time at a level rarely exceeded, has stirred the South to extraordinary efforts and wherever land is available it is being prepared for cotton seed. In some instances grazing land is being reclaimed, while many reports from various sections of the belt indicate that cotton this year will supplant last season's corn. Everything considered it would not be surprising if the 1913 acreage would come pretty close to equalling that of two seasons ago."

Cotton and Finance reports that planting is actively in progress in Texas and in most cases is completed, while preparations in all the States are well advanced. With the cotton men advising buyers not to purchase at present high levels, they foresee cheaper cotton. Will the South heed the warning? The South ought to diversify its crops, and do no such thing as plough up pasture lands and supplant corn with cotton. Will our farmers never learn?

TO TRAIN LATIN-AMERICANS IN OUR COLLEGES

That is a splendid idea advanced recently by General Juan Jose Estrada, former President of Nicaragua, who is now visiting this country. He arrived in New Orleans some days ago on his way to New York, and it was there that in an interview he outlined an elaborate plan for sending 500 boys from each of the Latin-American countries to the United States to be educated. Said ex-President Estrada:

"I have great faith in the future of Nicaragua and all the Central American countries. I believe that closer relations, both commercial and social, should be established between the United States and those countries. In my opinion the best way to do this is to educate the growing generation in a feeling of friendliness to America and the American people. Inculcate in them a love of freedom and modern ideas. Let the United States take 500 boys from each of the countries, including Mexico, Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Salvador and Panama and give them a thoroughly practical education fitting them for the battle of life. Our people need industrial training, and I know of no better way to give them the opportunity of learning how to better themsleves than to send them to the United States to be educated. The good for the countries which could be accomplished is incalculable."

We don't know upon what terms General Estrada would have the United States to "take" 500 Latin-American boys in order to give them an English education, but we believe it would pay the South for its colleges and universities to plan some way of offering a few hundred scholarships to some of the bright boys of the countries named. The colleges of the entire country could easily absorb 1,000 young men from Central and South American countries, and the effect would have a powerful social and commercial influence on the relations between their countries and ours.

The Star thinks it would be a good idea to reciprocate the ex-President's good will and excellent suggestions. We might in turn send 500 young men to the colleges and universities in the Latin countries. With Americans speaking Spanish and familiar with social, commercial and business customs among our Southern neighbors, and the Latin-Americans speaking English and getting in touch with the social, business and industrial life of the United States, the way would be paved for great achievements for all the Americas, North and South.

GREAT HARBOR DEVELOPMENT.

Among the great harbor developments on this side of the Atlantic is a plan to make the harbor at Halifax so capaciaus as to accommodate thirty-two of the world's biggest ships at one time. That surely will be some harbor, but the engineers think the work can be done for $12,000,000. In the House of Commons at Ottawa a few days ago, Premier Borden announced that the government would ask for an appropriation covering that amount. It is assumed that this policy is part of a scheme for improved steamship service between Great Britain and Canada. No doubt, also, the Canadian government has a view to traffic through the Panama Canal.

Canada is making great strides in development and is attracting thousands of settlers from all parts of the world. Thousands of American farmers continue to settle in the western provinces, and as yet we cannot get the tide turned South. The reason is that we have never gone about it right. Canada is attracting homeseekers because she has definite plans and is giving world-wide publicity to them.

JAMES G. BOYLIN

It is a sad co-incidence that so briefly following the removal by death of one of the brightest and most popular members of the daily press in North Carolina, now comes the announcement of the passing of Mr. James G. Boylin, editor of the Wadesboro Messenger and Intelligencer, and easily one of the ablest members of the weekly press in the State. Elsewhere in today's paper is given a brief sketch of his career by one of his contemporaries. The tribute is sincere and beautiful. Mr. Boylin was universally esteemed and loved wherever he was known. Devoted to his newspaper and his county, the Messenger and Intelligencer and Anson had come to be synonymous. His influence in the State was felt in every important fight for the betterment of his people politically and socially and the world is much better for his having lived in it.

CURRENT COMMENT.

A man can still keep an adequate supply on hand for private use provided no one will give information that he is believed to be selling it.—Durham Herald.

In Republican days the test used to be whether you belonged to one faction or another; in Democratic times of today it is whether you are a reactionary or a progressive, and if the latter, how much of an one.—Greensboro News.

Governor Craig, on his visit to the western part of North Carolina, found much enthusiasm for good roads. That should be the case throughout the entire State. North Carolina needs good roads and the more of these it secures the greater will be prosperity in the State.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Henderson is the first town in the State to elect a woman to serve on its school board, under the act passed by the recent General Assembly which permits women to serve as trustees and committeemen of the schools. Mount Olive can select a woman to serve as graded school trustee, and as two vacancies on the board are to be filled by the board of aldermen this Spring, the way is open for us to "get on the band wagon."—Mount Olive Tribune.

Raleigh has really gotten the habit. She has made so many wonderful strides these last few years, taken so many steps that count for progress and mark her as one of the most progressive cities of the commonwealth and has thereby gotten such a swing in the forward direction that she couldn't break the momentum if she would. Consequently the victory for a commission government charter need occasion no surprise. But there is surprise, lots of it, both for advocates and opponents of commission government, occasioned not by the fact of victory for the commission charter, but in the size of the majority.—Raleigh Times.

The Chamber of Commerce continues its good work along the line of encouraging and developing farm resources of Greenville county. On educative campaign such as this organization is conducting will be far reaching in its good results. The butter contest which closed Saturday was an incident in the work now being conducted, and serves to illustrate the general tendency of the day toward better living conditions on the farm. Not only is there an educative campaign looking to increasing the yield of the soil, but also one which looks to developing the "side lines" of the farm industry. This latter is second only in importance to the former, for by means of these "side lines", such as trucking, fruit growing, poultry raising, attention to dairy products, etc., the income of the farmer will be greatly augmented and at the same time his general living conditions bttered because he has many of the necessities of life which would be beyond his means unless he himself produces them.—Greenville (S. C.) News.

MARYLAND CONFERENCE.

Requests Governor of Delaware to Approve Prohibition Measure.

Lynchburg, Va., April 3.—The Maryland annual conference of the Methodist Protestant church at its second day sessions here today telegraphed a request to the Governor of Delaware asking him to approve the Hazel bill, which prohibits the shipment of liquors into prohibition territory and which is now pending before him.

Rev. James Earle Maloy, of Maryland, aged 78 years, and 54 years a member, asked today for superannuate relations.

T. R. Woodford, treasurer of the General conference assessments, reported only about half the assessments paid and he asked to be relieved. Dr. G. C. Bacchus was appointed to succeed him.

This afternoon a resolution was presented, the object of which is to condemn the appointment of H. E. Schoenwolf, of Baltimore, to doorkeeper of the United States Senate, because he was formerly a saloon keeper in Baltimore. This was read and referred to the Committee on Moral Reform without discussion.

FARMERS' ALTERNATIVES.

Passive Submission, Revolution or a Cure by Evolution, Says Speaker.

Atlanta, Ga., April 3.—"Passive submission, revolution or a cure by evolution," were declared to be the only alternatives open to the farmer, in an address here today by Lucian M. Rhodes, president of the Tennessee Farmers' Union, before the Georgia division of the National Farmers' Union. Evolution must be relied on as a final satisfactory relief for the difficulties of the farmer, said the speaker.

"Let the watchword," he added, "be the reduction of the cotton acreage and more grain, hay and live stock."

More than 300 farmers from all parts of the State attended the meeting. Other speakers were Charles S. Barrett, president of the National Farmers Union and Dr. A. M. Soulee, president of the Georgia Agricultural College.

HUSBAND KNEW BEST

Mrs. Bishop Reluctantly Consented to Advice of Husband, But is Right Glad She Did, Now.

Waverly, Va.—In a letter from this place, Mrs. Mattie L. Bishop says: "I suffered miserably from womantly trouble and everything I ate would put me in such misery I would have to go to bed until it wore off. I could not even wash my dishes after a meal.

At last my husband begged me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I had tried so many different kinds of medicine I didn't want to take it, but agreed to try it for his sake.

Before I had finished one bottle I could eat all I wanted and could do all of my work all right.

I gained in weight and looked so much better that my own sister said she wouldn't have known me had she seen me away from home.

I shall always recommend Cardui, for I know it will do all you claim."

If you suffer from any of the numerous symptoms of womanly trouble, don't wait until the trouble becomes chronic. You owe it to yourself, your friends and your family to try to regain your normal health.

Take Cardui, the woman's tonic so so many thousands of other women have done, with good results.

Begin taking Cardui today.

HEAVY DAMAGES ARE SOUGHT

E. L. Thompson, White, Who Was Injured in Collision Here Last Year, Sues Atlantic Coast Line for $60,000

Complaint was filed in Superior Court yesterday in the case of E. L. Thompson, white, against the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company, an action for $60,000 alleged damages for injuries received in a head-on collision of an engine and the A. & Y. passenger train on the local yards on the night of March 8th, last year, in which three lives were lost. Mr. Thompson had a narrow escape from death and he alleges that he received serious and permanent injuries. He seeks to recover $40,000 actual and $20,000 punitive damages.

The cause of the terrible accident which exacted the heaviest toll of life of any railroad accident in this section for years, was never made public by the officials of the Atlantic Coast Line, following an investigation, but certain allegations in the complaint filed yesterday throw some light on the mishap and fixes the responsibility for the collision on one of the victims.

In the accident Mr. H. B. Goodnight, the round house foreman; Messrs. W. M. Williams and Borden W. Branch lost their lives, being instantly killed. Mr. Thompson, who was a hostler and was on the engine with Mr. Goodnight, occupying the fireman's seat, was pitched headlong through the cab window to the ground, receiving serious injuries.

It is set forth in the complaint that the engine of a train broke down or became disabled at Navassa, which is the railroad's yard limits, and for some reason the defendant desired to have the engine detached and brought to Wilmington and an engine then in Wilmington taken to Navassa to enable the train to proceed to its destination. It is averred that "to that end the plaintiff was ordered by H. B. Goodnight to get upon an engine which was then in the Wilmington yards near the passenger shed, and assist the said Goodnight in taking said engine to Navassa to be attached to said train and bring the engine then at Navassa with said train, and in obedience to said orders or command, and in consequence of the assurance then made to the plaintiff he got upon the said engine and proceeded to carry out the order and directions given him."

The plaintiff further alleges that Mr. Goodnight was the plaintiff's superior whose orders and directions it was the duty of the plaintiff to obey, as Mr. Goodnight possessed the authority to discharge the plaintiff for any refusal to obey or carry out any orders or directions given him pertaining to the hostling or moving or running engines within the defendant's yard limits. The plaintiff alleges that at the time he was ordered on the engine that Mr. Goodnight knew, or ought to have known, that the passenger train on the A. & Y. was about due to arrive and that when it did come it would probably come in over the tracks that the engine upon which the plaintiff was ordered to go, and that it was dangerous to run said engine out over the route at the time. It is averred that the "plaintiff called attention of this fact to Goodnight, and thereupon Goodnight assured plaintiff that they had more than ample time to make the trip in safety before the said passenger train would arrive and that he had all orders and that he (Goodnight) would be pilot; that besides, there was more than one track between where the engine they were on and the bridge at Hilton and that the switches had been thrown accordingly and that if the plaintiff refused to obey him, the plaintiff could look for another job." The plaintiff, fearing he would lose his job and believing that Goodnight knew, consented to make the trip.

"Goodnight," the complaint continues, "took the engineer's place at the throttle and started said engine for Navassa and instructed the plaintiff to take the fireman's seat which plaintiff did." The engine was running at the rate of 40 or 50 miles an hour at the time of the collision, it is alleged, and the passenger train was making 20 or 30 miles an hour, both exceeding the limit allowed by the city ordinances and the rules of the company, it is averred.

The plaintiff received no less than 16 separate injuries, according to the complaint, and as a rusult is a nervous and physical wreck and totally incapacitated from following his vocation as an engineer on a railroad. He therefore, asks $40,000 actual and $20,000 punitive damages.

Settlement was made some time ago by the Coast Line with the families of those who were killed in the accident. Ex-Judge E. K. Bryan and L. Clayton Grant, Esq., represent Mr. Thompson.

MR. EDWARD T. BURRIS DEAD

Retired Sea Pilot Passed Away at His Home Here Yesterday

At 12:05 o'clock yesterday afternoon Mr. Edward T. Burris, a retired sea pilot, died at his home No. 913 South Fifth street, after protracted ill health. He was in his 76th year, and is survived by his wife, two sons, Messrs. J. M. Burris, of this city, and I. N. Burris, of Durham; three daughters, Mrs. E. F. Fales and Mrs. W. R. Hall, of Wilmington, and Mrs. J. W. Yopp, of Rocky Mount; two brothers, Messrs. S. S. and Christopher Burris, and one sister, Mrs. William Farrow, of Wilmington.

The funeral will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon from the residence and interment will be in Bellevue. Mr. Burris was highly esteemed by those who knew him and many friends of long standing will join his bereaved family in mourning his departure.

Three Alarms Yesterday

There were three fire alarms yesterday. At 8:30 A. M. a 'phone alarm came in from Castle street, between 10th and 11th, where a load of cotton waste had been set ablaze by a negro's cigarette. Little damage resulted. At 11:54, from box 18, there was a second alarm from 917 Schutt's Alley, where $25 damage was done to a dwelling occupied by Henry Jones, colored. It caught from a spark. At 3:33 P. M., box 31, the firemen were called to 413 Bradley's Alley. A house occupied by James Elliott, colored, and belonging to the Foster estate, caught from a spark, damage $5.

Court Room for Recorder

Work began yesterday on the court room for the Recorder's court, in the basement of the Court House where the County Commissioners will fit up quarters for the court so that it need not be held in police headquarters when Superior Court is in session. The estimated cost of the improvement is about $400. Entrance will be on the Princess street side of the Court House, under the office of the Register of Deeds. This improvement was recommended by the January grand jury.

DONALDSON VS. HIGH SCHOOL

Baseball Game at League Park This Afternoon Between Old Rival Teams—Another Contest Is Scheduled for Tomorrow

The Wilmington High School baseball team will open its 1913 season at League Park this afternoon when they will meet in contest the team of the Donaldson Military School, of Fayetteville. These teams are old-time rivals and the game will be stubbornly contested. A second game will be played at League Park tomorrow afternoon and the third game of the series will be played at Fayetteville on a date to be selected later.

The Donaldson boys will arrive in the city during this morning and during their stay here they will be entertained by the Wilmington High School Athletic Association. The Donaldson team is reported to be very strong this year, but the High School boys are hopeful of capturing both games as they claim to have one of the best teams they have had in the past few years and one of the best prep. school teams in the State.

The nucleus around which the High School team is built is the Burnett brothers, who have won much fame as athletes. Burnett, C., is holding down in fine style the position of catcher, while Burnett, R., is playing rings around first base. Williams, a fast man, plays second and fields like a big leaguer, while at third the hot ones are looked after by Strange, who, although a new man, is showing up well. Palmgren, who is also a new man, is a wonder at short and will probably occupy Hans Wagner's position some day. In left great dependence is placed in Merriman who is both a fast fielder and excellent batter. The center garden will be looked after by either Thompson or Hashagen, who are both players of ability. In right field the High School has a second Ty Cobb in the person of Litgen, who is a wonderfully fast fielder, a good batter and a fine base runner. The pitching staff is composed of Jacobs, Shepard, Cannady and Johnson. They are all pitchers of fine ability. The High School boys have been practicing hard for the past few weeks and are in good form.

The Donaldson line-up will be as follows: Graham, H., 2b; Stowe, 3b; Salley, lf; Newton, cf; Kirven, 1b; Graham, D., c; Glover, ss; Hedrick, rf; Boggs, p; substitutes, Wemyss, Fry and Ewing. The team will be accompanied by Prof. Currie, who is the coach.

The game this afternoon will be started promptly at 3:30 o'clock and Mr. Bert Kite will handle the indicator. A convenient car schedule has been arranged by the Tidewater Power Company. Cars will leave Front and Princess streets every 15 minutes beginning with 2:30 o'clock. The price of admission is 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children with no extra charge for the grandstand. Another feature of the afternoon will be the organized rooting by the High School students under the leadership of Mr. Wm. Fenley.

THE HOLLY CASE

Grand Jurors Visited the Accused in the County Jail Yesterday

Another day passed yesterday without the Holly case being mentioned in Superior Court. Rumors continued about the likelihood of a nol pros being taken. Friends of the man assert that there has been a wide change of sentiment since his acquittal of the murder charge in Pender county.

Yesterday afternoon late the grand jury visited the jail and it was learned they went to see Holly, who, it is said, was unable to go to the Court House. It is still reported that Holly is suffering with erysipelas in one of his feet. Report had it that the grand jury desired to confer with Holly; and when they found that the prisoner was unable to be brought from jail they decided to visit him at the institution. Whether or not the jury obtained any information is, of course, not known to the public.

Counsel for Holly stated yesterday that it would be impossible to reach the case now before tomorrow, in which circumstance, the trial would go over into the civil term next week and would in all probability consume the entire week. If not tried, Holly must remain in jail until next September before another criminal court comes around. If tried, it means that many civil cases will have to go over to next court. There has been much interested speculation as to what will happen to the case at this term.

TO MAKE NEW DIRECTORY.

Hill Directory Co. Corps of Canvassers Arrive to Start Work.

A corps of canvassers of the Hill Directory Company, of Richmond, Va., and Wilmington, arrived yesterday morning to begin their work of compiling information for a new directory of the city, which will be Volume IX. The new volume will be issued from the press about the last of June. The Hill people are well known by reason of their former work in Wilmington. Realizing the importance of the directory, citizens will no doubt gladly assist in making the new volume full, correct and complete, co-operating with the canvassers to make the new book the best yet. The office of the company is room 37, Carrell Building.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Few Cases of Interest on the Docket Yesterday Morning.

There wasn't much doing in the Recorder's court yesterday. Henry Newkirk was fined $5 and costs for a water wagon incident; Arthur Hewlett was taxed with the costs for violation of the driving ordinance, as was Sam Green for the same thing. Lula Bothea, colored, was given six months on the farm for larceny of ribbon, hosiery and a baby bonnet at Polvogt's store; and was held in another case charging larceny of remnant dress goods at C. H. Fore & Co. The costs were assessed against Rosa Bell Williams, Lula William and Janie Williams, affray.

Southport Electric Lights.

Southport News: "For a week or so Manager Stiffler has been testing the electric light service, with only an occasional 'burn-out' and live wire attachment. Friday night, March 28th, the power was on all night, and continuously every night since, and now Southport has another tangible evidence of progress in full demonstration. Stores and residences are now being wired for the electric service, and let it go down in the history of the town that the residence of Capt. L. J. Pepper is the first house in which the wires were installed. The captain is a good progressive."

"That's How I Need You"

By many special requests. Harry Harris will sing it at the Grand Theatre today. (Advertisement.)

THE MISSIONARY CONFERENCE

Pleasant and Profitable Meeting Came to Close Yesterday Afternoon. Will Meet Next Year at Richlands.

Voting their meeting a decided and in every way a most pleasing success, the ladies in attendance upon the annual conference of the United Missionary Societies of the Wilmington district, Methodist Episcopal church, South, held their closing session at the Fifth Street church yesterday afternoon and at 4 o'clock adjourned to meet next year at Richlands.

The conference began with a sermon Wednesday night by Rev. L. E. Thompson, presiding elder of the district. Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock the first business session was held, and an all-day meeting followed, the afternoon being devoted to the children and their part in missionary activities.

Mrs. W. F. Murphy, of Wallace, district secretary, presided and 22 delegates were in attendance. The devotional exercises were conducted by the pastor, Rev. G. T. Adams. A happy address of welcome was made by Mrs. Elsie Keen, to which appreciative response was made by Mrs. Harvey Boney, of Rose Hill. Upon the opening of the conference for the discussion of business, statistical reports were dispensed with and the general work, plans and prospects of the organization of societies were taken up. The advantage and value of missionary studies, the white slave traffic and Mormonism were among the topics which were considered.

Luncheon was served in the lecture room of the church to all attending the conference, and the Bright Jewels and other children heard Mrs. N. H. D. Wilson, of Goldsboro, who is first vice president of the societies in the North Carolina Conference and who has charge of the junior society work. A duet was charmingly rendered by Mrs. Oscar Ellis and Mrs. Love Davis. There was superb special music Wednesday night, also. Among the visitors at the conference were Mrs. W. H. Melville, secretary of the Baltimore district; Rev. L. E. Thompson, presiding elder of the Wilmington district; Rev. C. M. Lance, of the Southport Methodist church; Rev. W. L. Rexford, of the Bladen Street church, and Rev. C. T. Rogers, of Trinity Methodist church, this city.

SAYS HE DIDN'T SIGN NOTES.

H. Gideon Denies That He Borrowed $600 from R. G. Aads.

R. G. Aads, through his attorney, Herbert McClammy, Esq., brought suit yesterday in Justice Bornemann's court against M. Gideon to recover $600 which he alleges he loaned Gideon on three notes of $200 each, two of them bearing date of September 20th, 1912, and the other of September 27th, 1912. The defendant, represented by John D. Bellamy & Son, and A. G. Ricaud, Esq., denies that he signed the notes. The plaintiff alleges that the defendant instructed his brother to sign them for him. There was an agreement written in Syrian, Arabic or something equally unintelligible to the court, which was translated by Alex. Yeager, who found that it was to the effect that H. Gideon, R. G. Aads and Mrs. Ray George had dissolved a copartnership existing among them. "Judge" Bornemann, confronted by two directly conflicting statements regarding the signature of the notes, stated that he required time to make up his mind, and so deferred judgment until today at noon.

"PICKINGS" WILL BE SLIM.

Law as to Spending Money in Campaign Is Iron-Clad Affair.

"Quietest campaign on record," remarked an old-timer yesterday as he mournfully contemplated the forthcoming city primary.

"The boys—or at least most of them—are failing to warm up as they did of yore; the candidates under the new Kellum law can't turn loose the 'dough' and that's the beastly part of it," bewailed the old-timer.

As a matter of fact, the old liner appears to be dead right. The "pickings" in this campaign are going to be slim. The law as to spending money on elections is iron-clad; it not only prohibits the spending of an excess of $200 but hope or promise of reward, either by the candidate or by his friend or friends is prohibited. And the law, it is given out, is going to be enforced. Certain influences are at work in the community and it is said, have close tab on the situation. It promises to be an exceedingly "dry" election for those who ordinarily during these piping times of election "hire" themselves out as "workers."

TY COBB CAN'T COME.

Telegraphs That His Present Schedule is Taken Up—Later Date.

Ty Cobb, the world's greatest baseball player, will not be seen in action here this week as the local fans had hoped Wednesday evening when the management of the A. C. L. team sent him a telegram at Newberry, S. C., asking for a game with his all-star aggregation. Yesterday morning a telegram was received from Cobb reading as follows: "Present schedule taken. If after 10th of April am not signed will consider dates for another schedule." Cobb was in Columbia yesterday, his team playing the University of South Carolina nine there yesterday afternoon. The telegram of the noted ball player is of interest in that it shows that he has not yet signed up with the Detroit team.

FUNERAL OF MRS. JORDAN.

Held Yesterday from St. Mary's Pro-Cathedral—Interment at Oakdale.

The funeral of Mrs. Nellie Evelina Jordan was held yesterday morning at 10 o'clock from St. Mary's Pro-Cathedral by Rev. Father Dennen, assisted by Father Gallagher. Interment was in Oakdale cemetery. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Martin O'Brien, Fred Westerman, James M. Lord, Thos. E. Wallace, Wm. Sheehan and Dr. T. B. Carroll.

Mrs. Jordan died Wednesday morning at 7:30 at the residence, No. 106 Castle street, after an illness of some time. She was in her 65th year and is survived by one son, Mr. Herbert H. Jordan, and three grandchildren, Miss Nellie Cammariero and Miss Grace Jordan, and Master Harry H. Jordan.

Special Meeting Today.

Mayor Smith yesterday called a special meeting of the City Council to be held at 9:15 o'clock this morning. The object of the meeting is to pass upon the papers transferring the plant of the Brooklyn Sewerage Company to the City of Wilmington. It was agreed some time ago that the city would pay $2,850 for the plant.

BALDWIN ATTEMPTS ESCAPE?

Found Guilty of Felonious Assault on Mary Stewart, W. G. Baldwin Can't Be Found in Court—Arrested Five Miles Away

W. G. Baldwin, white merchant and saw mill man of Castle Haynes, was found guilty of felonous assault on Mary Stewart, colored, yesterday afternoon about 6:30 after the jury had been out about 25 minutes, and when the verdict was returned, Baldwin could not be found. He was called out, his bond of $500 declared forfeited and a capias instanter issued for him.

Constable John Davis and Special Deputy Sheriff J. C. King were instructed to procure an automobile and take the Castle Haynes road, it being supposed that Baldwin had gone towards his home in his own automobile. The C. S. Burnett garage furnished a big, speedy car and the deputies sped along the highway at a rate that at times reached 65 miles an hour, overtaking Baldwin about five miles out. With him were J. W. Winders, his bondsman and neighbor, and W. B. Hands, clerk in his store.

Overtaken, Baldwin made no resistance and protested that he was not trying to run away, that court had adjourned and that he supposed he could go home and come back today. It was also claimed that he said he had asked advice of one of his attorneys and had been instructed that he could go, but his attorneys deny that they gave him any such advice, and no one else seems to have done so.

At the Court House last night at 7:30 Baldwin had a consultation with L. Clayton Grant, Esq., one of his attorneys, and it was decided to ask Judge Justice to allow bond for the night, but the judge declined, and Baldwin was locked up.

After the jury went out yesterday about 6 o'clock, a minor case was heard and disposed of, and without formal adjournment, court ceased, jurymen were told to come back at 9:30 this morning, men put on their hats and standing around, began smoking. It was probably about this time that Baldwin left the room, and when the verdict came in, he was gone. Deputy King, sent out to look for Baldwin, saw neither him nor his red automobile, but on going back to the Court House, saw Mr. J. W. Winders coming out. Later Mr. Winders was in the machine with Baldwin, en route to Castle Haynes, and the officers say the red car was "going some." Although he vigorously denies that he was trying to escape, it was pretty generally believed that such was his intention. If it was, it would appear likely that he received news of the jury's action before he left the city. However, some thought that he might be sincere in his idea that he was at liberty to go home for the night, under the $500 bond. He will appear this morning for sentence. The crime of which he was convicted is punishable by a maximum of ten years' imprisonment.

There was intense interest in the result of the jury's deliberations, and the small number of people who had remained around the Court House came in for a genuine sensation when Baldwin couldn't be found, was called out, bond forfeited and the deputies sent on their thrilling chase at a rate of speed that smashed the limit to bits. A mile a minute on a man hunt put the officers on their nerves and when they returned to the Court House successful, they were a tingle with excitement.

The verdict was expected by nearly every one who heard the testimony. Ably defended by C. D. Weeks and L. Clayton Grant, Esqs., who made the best of a bad case, Baldwin was quite thoroughly prosecuted by the State's representatives, Solicitor Shaw, County Solicitor Peschau, and A. G. Ricaud and W. P. Gafford, Esqs., who were privately retained, and who led the prosecution in a manner in keeping with their recognized ability as criminal lawyers.

The case opened yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, when the jury was empanelled. The court did nothing for an hour after convening, owing to the absence of the solicitor who was detained in the grand jury room. Selection of the jury began at 10:30, and when the panel was completed, the following had been selected: W. R. Vann, C. N. Packer, Henderson Cole, J. J. Mohr, M. Russ, D. D. Lennon, C. L. Kuhl, H. K. Holden, W. P. Carroll, J. W. Pridgen, I. S. King and J. E. Haar.

Mary Stewart was the first witness. She stated substantially what she had told in the Recorder's court: that Baldwin came to her home looking for her husband; that he had a double-barrel shotgun and when she opened the door to his knocking, he cursed her and Jim McIntyre, who was in the room, threatening both with death and menacing each with the gun; that, frightened, she darted past him to the porch and that just as she stepped down, Baldwin fired, striking her just below the knee on the right leg, and that afterwards she remembered little because she "was in so much misery." She saw Baldwin and McIntyre, however, wrestling for possession of the gun.

The time was about 7 o'clock, on Saturday night, February 1st, 1913. She was sent to the James Walker Memorial Hospital, where her leg was amputated above the knee. In a delicate condition, the shooting produced the result to be expected. She was still in the hospital for treatment. Her appearance riveted attention upon her, and as in the lower court, there was visible sympathy for her.

Jim McIntyre followed, corroborated the woman, saying that after the gun was discharged, he dashed to the door and as Baldwin swung the gun back toward him from shooting the woman, he grabbed it, they wrestled for it, he got the barrels and Baldwin the stock.

Tom Hampton, cook at a plant nearby, heard the shot and ran toward the house, hearing a woman screaming. Outlined in the doorway light were Baldwin and McIntyre, fighting for the gun. Getting close in, witness crawled on hands and knees lest a stray shot might hit him. Did not go to woman's assistance. She was lying on the ground and screaming, but later went back to the house.

Mr. B. A. Cameron, of Castle Haynes, testified to hearing the shot, somebody called for him to 'phone for a doctor, went to the A. C. L. station to see if Agent Jones had secured a doctor, and while there with Jones Baldwin came up, between 8 and 9 o'clock, with a single-barrel shotgun, saying he "had got one and would get the other," and that Mary Stewart was lying up there at the point of death. Came from direction of the shooting. Agent Jones testified to similar statements. Deputy Sheriff A. L. Kelly testified to the nature of the wound, which was an inch or more in diameter, and identified shot taken from wound and from the porch. The State rested here.

The defense introduced as a character witness, Mr. J. W. Brooks, who gave the deefndant a good character, knew he had been indicted for retailing but had come clear; knew little of any former trouble of defendant. Mr. C. C. Chadbourn testified he had known Baldwin 10 years and for eight years had done business with him constantly and his character was good, was truthful and honest, and he never heard anything against him until the shooting; he would get on sprees now and then.

Mr. Sam Davis gave the defendant a good character, as did Mr. Ike Solomon, who said for four years he had done business with Baldwin and found him straight. Mr. J. W. Winders said his character was good; had known Baldwin for 15 years; was his bondsman. He denied that he had been extra active in assisting Baldwin; admitted he was a member of committee at Castle Haynes waiting on Baldwin and another man in near-beer times, asking Baldwin to move his place to the river, which he did; and giving the other man 24 hours to leave town, which he did. Never knew Baldwin to sell whiskey. Said McIntyre's character was "mighty bad," and that nearly all Castle Haynes negroes were bad, with few exceptions. Mr. Miller said McIntyre's character was bad, Baldwin's good. Mr. Futch, of Pender county, said the same. Admitted that Baldwin came to his home in Pender county the night of the shooting and asked to stay all night. Had been there before. Baldwin told him he had had a "scrummage" with Stewart and McIntyre and said Mary Stewart had been hurt but he didn't say who hurt her. Admitted that he had gone to Castle Haynes the day following the shooting, on Sunday, and had heard shooting discussed but did not go there for Baldwin or to see McIntyre's father and get him to send Jim away. Said he had been tried for his alleged intimidation of McIntyre by Justice Harriss and had been acquitted. Baldwin was not drinking when he came to his house; he had a single-barrel gun.

In the afternoon at 2:30 W. B. Hands took the stand and testified that Baldwin's character was good and Jim McIntyre's bad; and then the defendant testified in his own behalf.

After having the difficulty with Jim Stewart at Baldwin's meat market between 6 and 7 o'clock, Saturday evening, February 1st, witness said he took his double-barrel shotgun and went to Stewart's house to notify him that he was to vacate the premises, leased by Baldwin, and he carried the gun as protection to himself. At the house, he asked for Stewart, was told he was not at home, saw Jim McIntyre in the room, who leaped at him and grabbed the gun, jerking it through his fingers so that one of barrels was discharged. He didn't know that Mary Stewart was hit until he went home and his wife told him. He denied drawing the gun on either of the negroes. Later, after McIntyre had wrested the barrels of the gun from him, he got his single-barrel shotgun and it was with reference to the guns that he spoke when he said to Cameron and Jones that "they got one

Miss Willie Bowyer charmingly entertained the members of the Epworth League of Trinity Methodist church Tuesday evening from 8 to 10 o'clock. Refreshments, including grape juice, cream and cake were served, and the event was thoroughly enjoyed by the guests.

One of the principal social events of the Spring will be the production by the University of North Carolina Dramatic Club of the amusing farce comedy entitled, "What Happened to Jones." The production was secured and will be given under the auspices of the Ministering Circle of the King's Daughters. Tickets are now on sale and may be procured from any member of the King's Daughters and at Plummer's, Struthers' and Baxter's. Tickets may be exchanged for reserved seats at Plummer's on Monday.

The Cape Fear Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, with appropriate programme and a silver tea, will commemorate the battle of Shiloh tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 in the W. L. I. armory. Each Daughter is entitled to bring a guest and a cordial invitation is extended to the Veterans. Shiloh was a great Confederate victory, made so by the genius of Gen. Albert Sidney Johnson, but the full fruits of the triumph were not gathered because of the death of Gen. Johnson, who was wounded in the foot during the fight, and refusing to leave the firing line, died of the loss of blood.

SURPRISE WEDDING CELEBRATED LAST EVENING.

The friends of Miss Annie Maie Breen, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Breen, will be quite interested to learn of her marriage last evening to Mr. Deems Williams, of Phoenix. It was a surprise wedding and was witnessed by only a few friends and relatives, taking place at the rectory of St. Mary's Pro-Cathedral at 8:30 o'clock, Rev. Father Dennen officiating. Miss Nellie Maie Kelly was maid of honor and Mr. Tom Breen best man. The couple will be at home at Mrs. Alderman's, on Market street. Congratulations from a large number of pleasantly surprised friends will greet the bride and groom.

"THE GIRL WHO DARED" AT THE ACADEMY TONIGHT

Everything is now in readiness for the presentation of "The Girl Who Dared." Final full rehearsal with orchestra took place last night and proved to be most satisfactory. The plot is merry and most entertaining, the choruses are full, attractively costumed and well trained. There are many pretty and graceful girls in the numerous songs and dances. The Bathing Girls, lead by Miss Lucile Burkheimer, is one of the best numbers. The sale of seats has been unusually large for an amateur production. The play, given under the auspices of and for the benefit of the Cape Fear Camp of Confederate Veterans, merits liberal patronage and the cast deserves a full house, for it has worked hard. There are still a very few reserved seats to be had and these will probably be disposed of this morning. The doors open this evening at 7:30 and the performance will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

DELEGATES NAMED TO FEDERATION MEETING

At the meeting of North Carolina Sorosis for April held in the Masonic Temple yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, officers were voted upon in the primary election and delegates chosen for the Federation meeting at Newbern May 6th, at which time Judge Walter Clark, Chief Justice of the North Carolina Supreme Court, will lecture on the subject of the legal status of woman. Another speaker will be Miss Julia Lathrop, of the Federal Child Labor Commission. The delegates are Mrs. R. W. Hicks, Mrs. Herbert McClammy and Miss Della Cline; alternates, Mrs. B. T. Hopkins, Mrs. E. H. Munson and Mrs. J. P. Whyte. The statistical report of the Rockefeller Commission for the Study of Public Schools shows that North Carolina occupies no enviable position among the States, being, in fact, next to the bottom of the list in the number of days of school given the children. The report was heard with deep interest and is considered of so much importance that it will be published in full. Among other items of business it was noted that Bonci, the celebrated tenor, will appear here May 2nd.

MADAME STEPHALI CONCLUDES ENGAGEMENT

Madame Stephali last evening concluded her engagement here under the auspices of the Cape Fear Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, at the Boys' Brigade armory. A very large number was present. At the afternoon concert lecture yesterday about 200 children attended. Her subject then was "Music and Childhood." This sweet and helpful lecture was the "lecture sentimental," for it appealed to all that makes for child love and child understanding. It dealt with music in its relation to children and contained much that was helpful to those interested in the formation of child character. Last night the subject of the third and final concert lecture was "Music and Life," continuing the thought of the first lecture Wednesday evening on the subject of "Influence of Music." In it there was the spirit of music actually working out through the forces of love and passion and high endeavor. In it theory gave place to accomplishment and there was a presentation of music as a force rather than as an influence. If possible, Madame Stephali's voice touched greater heights of artistic triumph than in the preceding concert lectures and her efforts, as well as those of the instrumentalist, Miss Bereniece Lathrop, were keenly appreciated.

SENIOR CLASS OF COLLEGE PRESENTS DELIGHTFUL PLAY

Greenville, N. C., April 3.—Monday evening the Senior class of the East Carolina Teachers' Training School, presented to a large and appreciative audience William Shakespeare's comedy, "The Taming of the Shrew." The class has the distinction of being the first class of this school to present a Shakespearean drama and in a great way owes its success to the efficient coach, Miss May R. B. Muffly, and to the class adviser, Mr. Leon R. Meadows. The georgous costumes and stage settings, furnished by professionals, added greatly to the brilliancy of the scenes. The acting was up to the training school standard in every way and quiet surprised the audience by giving and all-star performance. The acting was varied by stately dances and Shakespearean lyrics to herald the bridal party in Act III and the banquet scene in the close.

Each of thirty members of class is to be congratulated for contributing so much to the raising of the school standard in dramatics in the presentation of this play. Marked progress has been made in the line of dramatics in this institution during the year as was shown by the excellent interpretation of "The Mikado," a light opera given earlier in the session under the auspices of the literary societies.

The school feels extreme pride in the result of the efforts put forth in presenting the play on Monday evening which will probably be a culmination of dramatic activities for the present session.

The proceeds realized from the play will add greatly to the loan fund already started by preceding Senior classes.

The board of trustees held a meeting here yesterday for the purpose of making plans for the school.

BALDWIN ATTEMPTS ESCAPE?

but he had another one." Was not drinking a drop, had drunk two glasses of cider in Wilmington that afternoon, which was all he had. Going home after seeing the men named above, he ate supper, learned that the Sheriff was coming after him, and left, fearing he would not be allowed to give bond and didn't want to be in jail over Sunday. Went to Pender county across the railroad bridge, and stayed at the home of his friend Futch, until early Monday morning, reaching home about daylight. Questioned as to his violent temper, especially when drinking, he was asked about the time he assaulted R. F. Brooks, Esq., with gun and knife, and was only kept from Brooks by Justice George Harriss, who knocked him down. He said he was drinking, and that he was acquitted of the affair. Had been indicted twice for retailing but had not been convicted; had Federal license to sell whiskey only as a protection in the sale of near-beer, having learned it might have more alcohol than the law allowed. Witness said he had lived at Castle Haynes since 1899, and had engaged in saw milling, farming and merchandizing.

Recalled, J. W. Winders testified to seeing Baldwin's hands bleeding that night, thus supporting the claim that the gun had been jerked through his fingers, the hammer tearing the flesh. Mr. W. H. Shearin said that Baldwin's character was "mixed," he having some good qualities and some bad ones, a bad one being his heady temper when drinking, and he regarded him as a very dangerous man. A. C. L. Agent Jones, recalled, gave him a good character; W. S. Cooper said his character was good and bad; Mr. Sam Blossom said his general reputation was bad; Plainclothesman Leon George said in Wilmington Baldwin's reputation was good. The gist of the character testimony was that for truth and honesty, Baldwin's character was good; but that he was a bad man because of his high temper, particularly when in his cups.

W. P. Gafford, Esq., opened the argument and was followed by C. D. Weeks, Esq., for the defense. County Solicitor Peschau spoke third, L. Clayton Grant, Esq., following, and A. G. Ricaud, Esq., closing the argument in a characteristic speech. The pleas made were interesting and able, the five speeches consuming two hours' time.

The Baldwin case consuming the entire day in Superior Court yesterday, the homicide case against Martin Milton, colored, although set for yesterday, could not be reached, but a peremptory order was made setting it for this morning, it to have a clear right-of-way over everything else. Milton is charged with killing Henry Collins, colored, at the Independent Ice Company's factory several weeks ago. The two had words about a pistol which Collins had given Milton in pawn for 25 cents, so it is said. In a struggle over the weapon, it was discharged and Collins was killed almost instantly, the ball striking him in the head. There is no eye witness of the actual shooting, though there will be testimony regarding the events leading up to it. The State has said that a verdict of murder in the first degree would not be asked, but that either a verdict of murder in the second degree, or one of manslaughter, would be asked, according to the nature of the evidence developed. The defense hopes for an acquittal and will probably fight out the case with that in view. Anyway, from what was stated yesterday by counsel for the negro, it doesn't appear that a submission will be made to either of the charges outlined by the State.

Jean Harris, charged with retailing, and out under a cash bond of $100, was called and failed to appear, whereupon judgment nisi sci fa and capias was entered.

The only case heard yesterday besides the Baldwin case, was one against "Country" John Williams, White, a not very bright man, charged with larceny. The judge and solicitor considered it briefly at the end of the session, allowed a submission to a charge of forcible trespass, taxed John with the costs and bade him return to Durham whence he came about five months ago, when officers brought him to Wilmington and locked him up on the larceny charge. It was further stipulated that he should remain away from New Hanover, and when he asked for how long, he was told all the rest of his life.

The grand jury returned three true bills yesterday. Ben H. Cottle, the druggist, who was indicted by the January grand jury on a charge of selling whiskey and whose case was nol prossed Wednesday, was indicted yesterday on a charge of keeping a disorderly house, it being alleged that a large crowd of people, mostly negroes, congregate at his place and caused much disorder. Lila Gouchy, who lives at No. 211 South Eleventh street, was indicted on a charge of keeping a disorderly house. An indictment was returned against Tom Turner, a white man, charged with abandonment. He could not be found by the officers and it is thought that he has left the city. This is the second indictment for abandonment brought by the present grand jury, a man by the name of Besant being indicted Tuesday.

The little tots are always fond of pastry, but if made from lard it's bound to be greasy and indigestible, and isn't good for their little stomachs; if made from butter, it's too expensive—at present butter prices.

Cottolene

is far better than lard because it is a vegetable product, never makes food greasy, never causes indigestion. It is the equal of butter at about one-third the price. So why be extravagant?

Feed the "kiddies" their fill of pastry—if made from Cottolene it won't harm them.

Cottolene is both economical and healthful.

3 egg yolks 1 white — ¼ cup milk
2½ cups flour 1 cup freshly mashed potatoes
½ teaspoon salt 3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teasp'n gr'd mace ¼ teasp'n gr'd nutmeg
Cream the Cottolene, add sugar, then the eggs, stir in potato and milk, add flour gradually; use more if necessary. Roll and cut all doughnuts needed before frying. Fry in deep Cottolene.

COTTON MARKET UNSETTLED

May Contracts Were Relatively Weak Under Liquidation—Close Steady With Last Prices Unchanged to 11 Points Off

New York, April 3.—The cotton market was nervous and unsettled during today's trading, with May contracts relatively weak under liquidation inspired by predictions that the local stock would be tendered on the active Spring months. The close was steady, with last prices net unchanged to 11 points lower. The market opened steady, at an advance of 2 to 4 points in response to better cables than due, more favorable reports as to financial conditions in Germany, a continued rapid rise in the river at Memphis, and apprehensions of unsettled weather. Prices worked upward another point or two right after the call on foreign buying and covering, but the market soon weakened, as there appeared to be a good deal of May cotton for sale. Brokers supposed to be operating for the interests who had taken up cotton on March contracts, were sellers of May against purchases of July, and the scattering long interest which had been attracted by predictions of a big May premium, began to liquidate some of its holdings. This unsettled the general market and prices eased off from the best, but July was held relatively steady by the demand against sales of May, while aggressive offerings of the later months were held in check by predictions of unsettled weather in the South and continued uneasiness as to the ability of the Mississippi levees to withstand the high stages predicted for the river within the next few days. Wheenever offerings of May were withdrawn, the market showed a tendency to steady up from the lowest, but every little bulge appeared to attract little new month liquidation and closing prices were within a point or two of the lowest. It was estimated that prominent brokers had sold at least 50,000 bales of May against purchases of July within the past two days, and the reversal of this big straddle interest was considered chiefly responsible for the day's developments. No change was reported in Southern spot markets.

Spot closed quiet. Middling uplands, 12.60; middling gulf, 12.85; no sales.

Raleigh Crampler, of Alabama, and Hinton Crumpler, of Winston, will probably come as soon as possible. The two daughters, Misses Lula Crumpler and Mary Crumpler, were by his bedside at the end.

STOCKS SPURTED AT CLOSE

Until the Final Half-hour the Market Did Little—List Then Advanced Suddenly With Feading and Coppers Leading.

New York, April 3.—Until the last half hour of trading today the stock market did little. Then the list advanced suddenly, with Reading and the Copper stocks in the lead. Reading was rushed up 3¼ points. Early in the day the market registered the effect of moderate pressure from board room traders, but declines were moderate. Losses were gradually made up and the final upturn placed a number of stocks from 1 to 3 points above yesterday's closing.

Trading was dull most of the session Although Wall Street has viewed the coming revision of the tariff during recent months with a degree of indifference which had been a matter of comment, the fact that the convening of Congress is now only a few days off, forced itself upon traders today. Various unofficial accounts of the character of the tariff measures to be presented received considerable attention and served as a basis for bear selling.

The chief movements of the day prior to the spurt at the close were among the specialties. Rumely's annual report showing over 10 per cent. earned on the common stock, caused an advance of over 5 points in that stock. Can and Biscuit also were strong. Rubber, Canadian Pacific and Chesapeake and Ohio were heavy. Buying of the Copper stocks was influenced by reports of an improving tendency in the metal market. One of the large selling agencies was reported to have raised its price to 15½c.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,025,000. United States bonds, unchanged on call. Total sales of stocks today, 411,600 shares.

RECOGNITION APRIL 8TH.

Bryan Notifies Diplomats of U. S.'s Attitude Toward China.

Washington, April 3—Secretary Bryan has formally notified all diplomatic representatives here of the intention of the United States to recognize the new Chinese Republic on April 8th, the meeting day of the assembly, and has formally proposed that all other governments recognize the new republic in concert on that day.

Secretary Bryan's note was delivered to some of the foreign diplomats yesterday and to the remainder of the corps today. Each was enjoined to secrecy that a formal announcement might be made from the White House first. President Wilson's statement is expected at any time.

Secretary Bryan't note was brief and in substance like this:

"The President requests me to notify you and your governments through you, of the intention of the United States to recognize the new Republic of China on April 8th."

The remainder of the note is a brief suggestion that all other nations do likewise on that day.

Diplomats here regard the proposal for a concerted recognition as an action that will clear away any soreness that may have been created by what was called a breach of diplomacy recently when the White House announcement regarding the six-power loan was published here before the foreign governments interested had been notified.

AGED WOMAN ARRESTED.

Nancy Hannah is Charged With Murder of Grand-daughter.

Asheville, N. C., April 3.—Following the finding of her three-year-old granddaughter's body in a mountain cave, Nancy Hannah, an aged resident of Haywood county, was arrested today charged with the murder of the child. It is charged that the prisoner left her daughter's home a month ago with the child on the pretense of taking it to the county home. Developments are said to have shown, however, that the little child had not been taken to that place, and searching parties were organized.

The child is said to have disappeared a month ago. It was the daughter of Lizzie Hannah Putnam, a daughter of the prisoner, and the former's husband, Will Putnam, is being held as a witness.

DAVID'S
What's the Price of a Good Suit of Clothes?
TWENTY-FIVE dollars. You can buy our clothes for less than that—$20, $18; you can pay more than that—we have very fine clothes at $30, $35, $40. But $25 is a good average price; most men who appreciate good quality and style in clothes, good tailoring and fit, are willing to pay as much as $25.
HART, SCHAFFNER & MARX
suits at $25 will surprise you; particularly if you've been accustomed to going to a custom tailor to have clothes made to measure; more particularly if you've patronized the so-called low-priced tailor; most particularly if you're getting what you think are made-to-measure clothes at $25 or less.
You'll get all-wool fabrics; trimmings, linings and other materials of a high grade; tailoring of a very high order—the things that make a suit wear well, and keep shapely. You'll get the value of best style and standards and originality of design; you'll get clothes that fit you well.
And you'll gain from $10 to $20, either in greater value at the price; or lower price for similar value.
Better see how true this is; $25 is a price you can afford, and you'll say so when you see the clothes. Better come and look at the new Spring styles.

ever, that he intends to override their desires or attempt to force them to accept provisions which might arouse general Democratic opposition when the bill reaches the Senate.

The sugar schedule remained the only stumbling block when the House Ways and Means Committee adjourned later today, after considering that and the income tax since early morning. Everything was left to the President as to the sugar schedule and it was hoped that his conference with the Democratic Senators would make it possible for an agreement to be reached and for the bill to be introduced on Monday.

Free wool was finally agreed to by the committee today, the 15 per cent. ad valorem advocated by Chairman Underwood being abandoned. This carried out the determination reached yesterday by President Wilson and members of the committee.

The plan for the income tax also was agreed to by the Ways and Means Committee, the rates being left dependent somewhat upon the action to be taken relative to the sugar tariff It was concluded to place a tax of 1 per cent. on incomes of more than 4,000, graduating up to 4 per cent. on incomes exceeding $100,000.

It was agreed further to differentiate between individual and corporation taxes, the latter to be a flat tax, to be determined when the exact amount of necessary revenue is ascertained when the sugar schedule is fixed.

The Ways and Means Committee will meet tomorrow to take up the sugar schedule again, the members expecting further guidance in the matter from the White House as a result of the President's conference tonight with Senators Simmons, Smith and Stone.

Chairman Underwood said tonight that he hoped to introduce the entire tariff bill in the House on Monday, the Democratic caucus to take it up afterward. Owing to the fact that the committee has been unable to complete its handbook on the tariff for the use of the caucus, consideration of the committee's report may not be taken up Tuesday.

ATKINSON HIGH SCHOOL.

Commencement Exercises in Progress This Week—Programme.

Atkinson, N. C., April 3.—The commencement exercises of the Atkinson school began Tuesday evening with a programme of which the chief feature was an operetta, "Fete in Flowerland", piano solos, readings by expression pupils, etc. With perfect weather Wednesday morning a very large crowd gathered for commencement day when the exercises opened at 10:30 o'clock with a commencement chorus, presentation of certificates by Prof. T. S. Teague to Mamie Woodcock, Ercell Corbett, Bessie Alderman and Leolo Flynn, the graduates. The annual address was by Hon. T. W. Bickett. In the afternoon the declaimers' contest was held, the contestants being Willie Lewis, Alton Keith, George Moore, James Johnson and Jasper Highsmith. The marshals were Alton Keith, chief; Raymond Harrell, Jasper Highsmith, Eva Dobson and Clare Johnson.

State Senator E. A. Hawes, Jr., introduced Mr. Bickett and the expectations of the audience were fulfilled in the splendid address. Mr. Bickett spoke on "Educational Dividends." At the close he gave his "message" that life, attainment of wealth to be held as a trust and rendered back to the Giver through service and sacrifice for others. He passed on to us the words of Dr. Sykes in last year's address, "all you can hold in your cold dead hand is what you have given away."

Dinner was served on the grounds. The debate and declaimers' contest showed the good work that has been done in the school. The closing event was the presentation of medals as follows: Scholarship, Ercell Corbett; best general average in grammar schools, Evabell Larkins and Ada Sewall. Declaimers' medal, James Johnson; readers, Arline Matthews; greatest improvement in music, Estelle Moore; greatest improvement in English, Miss Leola Flynn.

Mr. T. S. Teague, of Siler City, has been principal of the school the past two years and has proved himself conscientious and of high standards. His associate teachers were Misses Marie Lewis, Emma Purvis, Jennie D. Evans, and Bessie Brown. All of these have done excellent work.

The school has outgrown its building and increased faculty. Plans for next year are for 11th grade work, enlarged faculty and a longer term. Another building and a boarding department are in contemplation.

TOM SEABROOKE DEAD

Well Known Comedian Passes Away After Brief Illness

Chicago, April 3.—Thomas Q. Seabrooke, a well known comic opera comedian for 20 years, died today in a Clark street hotel after a brief illness. He was 53 years old. His home was in New York city. He had been in ill health for several years. Seabrooke died of pneumonia. He was one of the best known of comic opera stars. Recently he had been in vaudeville and was in Chicago filling a number of engagements.

An inheritance of $150,000 came to the comedian last month and two weeks ago he married Miss Mattie Quinn, a vaudeville actress. Mrs. Seabrooke left Chicago shortly after the wedding to fill an engagement at Sault Ste Marie, Mich.

ATTELL COMING BACK

Abe Shows Notable Improvement in Fast 10-round Bout

New York, April 3.—Abe Attell, former featherweight champion, showed notable improvement in a 10round bout here tonight in which he cleverly outpointed Jimmy Walsh, of Boston. The bout was a fast one throughout and with the exception of two rounds, in which Walsh had a decided advantage, the honors were Attell's. The former champion's showing was a surprise, as he was within a shade of his old-time quickness and cleverness. About the only thing lacking was a little of the power which used to be behind his blows.

Chicago, April 3.—Investigation today of the disappearance of 20 young Swedish immigrant girls en route from New York to Chicago, led agents of the Department of Justice to the belief that they either missed their train at New Castle, Pa., or are stalled in the flood zone. Representatives of the government do not believe that the girls have been lured away by "white slavers."

Philadelphia, April 3.—Charles F. Conklin, of Chicago, defeated L. W. Gardner, of East Orange, N. J., in tonight's game of the National amateur 18.2 billiard tournament. The score was 400 to 290.

WATER NEARS TOP OF CAIRO LEVEES

President as follows:

"Dayton's financial institutions suggest you send a representative to Dayton to consult with and advise them of financial matters."

Acting Secretary Williams, of the Treasury Department, to whom the question was referred, asked Mr. Patterson for a prompt report with particulars of the subject upon which the city desired Federal advice.

The Treasury Department is closely watching the financial situation in the flooded districts. The sub-treasury at Cincinnati has practically exhausted its supply of one, two and five dollar bills. By direction of Acting Secretary Williams $800,000 in small bills will be on the way to Cincinnati tomorrow to relieve the stringency. In the meantime, he authorized the assistant treasurer there to pay out gold to meet the pressing demands.

State Aid Approved.

Dayton, O., April 3.—Through a terrific lightning storm and over roads which in many places were ankle deep in water, Governor Cox and members of the Ohio flood relief commission, accompanied by Gen. John C. Speaks and his military staff, tonight returned to Dayton from Hamilton, where they had gone to investigate the flood situation.

During the trip back, the party became lost and traveled miles out of the way. Tomorrow the party will start for Ohio river points. Practically all members of the commission tonight were agreed with Governor Cox on the plan announced today of State aid for the rehabilitation of points in the State which have suffered most from the recent high waters. In brief, the plan calls for the enactment of a State law by which municipalities and other subdivisions would be able to issue bonds immediately without submitting the bond issue to a vote of the people.

Dayton's bread line today fell from 82,000 persons to 73,000. Several of the large manufacturing firms have announced that they will begin active operations next week.

Telegraph and telephone communication is fast becoming normal. Governor Cox today warmly praised the relief work instituted in Dayton for the flood sufferers by John H. Patterson. He said:

"The work of John H. Patterson, the Dayton member of the flood relief commission, in its generalship and effectiveness is absolutely without parallel. He has not only proved to be a benefactor to his own city, but the State and Nation as well share in the pride which his splendid service has inspired."

Paducah Without Light.

Paducah, Ky., April 3.—This city tonight is without lights and the water which earlier in the week flooded the lower sections of the city, today invaded the retail district to an extent that partially paralyzed business. Three thousand persons from the inundated sections of the city tonight are housed at a refugee camp on a hill west of the city.

The stage here tonight at 7:30 o'clock was 53.4 feet. 12 inches below the record mark of 1884, and the Ohio was still rising. Electric lighting, power and gas plants have been shut down. A stage of 56 feet, predicted for this point, would render the waterworks plant inoperative.

ATTACK POSTPONED

Montenegrins Are Busy Burying Dead and Attending Wounded

Vienna, April 3.—The Montenegrin attack on Scutari, according to advices received here, has been postponed to the end of the week, owing, it is said to heavy losses. The Montenegrins are busy burying their dead and attending the wounded. The delay will also enable the Servians to bring up fresh siege guns.

Servia's determined support of Montenegro is causing increased agitation in Austria. The reported arrival at San Giovanni Di Medua of a Russian steamer with guns, ammunition and clothing for the Montenegrins gives the Austrian papers an opportunity to attack Russia.

Washington, April 3.—Secretary McAdoo today announced he would make no appointments nor promotions in the customs service until after July 1st, when the customs re-organization plan becomes effective. The new scheme will necessitate a big reduction in the customs force and as far as possible, vacancies occurring in the meantime will be saved for employes losing their position through the reorganization.

Philadelphia, April 3.—Dr. Walter E. Uffenheimer, Philadelphia, defeated J. E. Cope Morton, also of Philadelphia, in the afternoon game in the National Amateur 18.2 billiard tournament by the score of 400 to 337. It was Uffenheimer's first victory and the last match he will play in the tournament. Uffenheimer's high run was 91 and his average 10. Morton's high run was 49 and his average 8 2-5:39.

hurst ,although her face blanched, showed as defiant an attitude as ever, declaring she would fight to the end.

One of the militant leaders, in announcing the intentions of the suffragettes, went so far as to say that even human life would no longer be respected. In London, Glasgow and other places throughout the country enthusiastic meetings were held tonight and every mention of Mrs. Pankhurst brought forth loud cheers.

Those who are to carry on the fight during the leader's incarceration, which nobody believes will be for long, breathed defiance to the government and promised the fight would be waged more furiously than ever. One of the leaders, whose name is suppressed, gave out the following statement:

"Human life is now in peril; for we have resolved no longer to respect it, and trouble of all sorts must be faced by us."

This statement did not cause surprise, for the women, who at first only set fire to unoccupied houses, have made attempts in the last few days against occupied residences.

While the speakers at the public meetings did not go so far as the anonymous leader, they promised that the agitation would be very actively conducted and appealed to the women to show their indignation at the sentence by some definite deed.

At Glasgow, Mrs. Johnson, one of the most militant among the suffragettes, declared that the militancy of the past would be the "merest pin pricks to what would happen almost at once all over the country."

She described what the women intended to do as "the coming reign of terror."

Other women declared that what they would do would "more than stagger humanity."

Scotland Yard, aroused by the threats of the women, has sent out warnings to owners and tenants of property of possible developments and the police everywhere are taking unusual precautions.

In closing a meeting held under the auspices of the Women's Social and Political Union tonight, Annie Kenney appealed to those who were indignant at the long sentence passed on Mrs. Pankhurst to come forward within the next 48 hours and show their indignation by some definite deed.

"It is always the law-breakers who make things go," she added.

There were repeated cheers at every mention of Mrs. Pankhurst's name.

Miss Kenney, who presided, wondered if the judge in summing up realized that instead of stopping the agitation to win the vote he was only fanning the flames. "Do they think," she asked, "that while Mrs. Pankhurst is in prison the women are going to sit down like a flock of sheep until she comes out? Militancy will go on and it will become more furious than ever."

WILSON'S ATTITUDE.

Won't Recognize Mexico, But Will Recognize China—Philippines.

Washington, April 3.—President Wilson indicated informally today what the attitude of this government would be toward Mexico, China and the Philippines.

Pending a settlement of affairs in Mexico, holding of elections and establishment of a stable government, recognition probably will be withheld. The Chinese Republic is to be recognized April 8th, the meeting day of the new assembly. Notice of this intention has been given to the diplomats of all foreign governments represented here, with a formal proposal that the other governments grant recognition at the same time.

With respect to the Philippines, the President intends to see that the pledge of the Democratic party for the ultimate independence of the islands is carried out. He proposes to give careful consideration to the appointment of a Governor General and the Philippines commission.

The President said today that the negotiations which Secretary Bryan began yesterday with the diplomatic corps in regard to China has not yet matured, but that an announcement could be expected soon. Intimations here indicate the government were disposed to wait until an election was held in China and the process of constitutional government establishment before recognizing the republic.

President Wilson is carefully considering the appointment of a Governor General of the Philippines. Today he talked with Representatives Jones, of Virginia, chairman of the Insular Affairs Committee, who announced he will re-introduce at the coming session his bill providing for Philippine independence.

Mr. Jones urged the selection of a responsible and courageous man because of the problems ahead. The President said he had not yet fixed upon any one. He will confer with Secretary Garrison and others interested in Philippine problems before making the appointment. The Philippine resident commissioners, Quezon and Earnshaw, have arranged to see the President tomorrow and will protest against free sugar.

Representative Carter Glass, of Virginia, ranking member of the House Committee on Banking and Currency, saw the President today and arranged for a conference next week. Mr. Glass has been working on a currency bill and expects to show the President the progress of his work.

NO JURY REFORM.

N. J. Legislature Likely to Adjourn Without Completing Legislation.

Trenton, N. J., April 3.—The indications this afternoon were that the New Jersey Legislature will adjourn sine die late today or tonight without enacting any jury reform legislation for which President Wilson and Governor Fielder have been making earnest appeals. The Senate passed a bill providing that grand jurors shall be selected by jury commissioners in each county instead of by sheriffs. The House amended the bill so that a referendum vote should be take non the question by each county.

It is expected that the Senate will reject the bill and that the session will end with the question deadlocked. If this occurs, Governor Fielder is expected to call the Legislature in special session about May 1st.

Guayamas, Mexico, April 3.—Commandant Sanchez, of El Cobre, was left an "army" composed of his side and a first sergeant today when State troops demanded the surrender of the town. All the Federal soldiers of the El Cobre garrison promptly deserted, only to march in with the victorious insurgent State troops. Sanchez, and his two loyal followers, were taken prisoners and face execution at sunrise. El Cobre is near the smelting center of Fundicion.

SCHOONER CUT IN TWAIN.

Samuel T. Beaucham Sunk by British Steamer—Crew Saved.

Newport News, Va., April 3.—News of the sinking of the three-masted American schooner Samuel T. Beacham and rescue of her captain, crew, and one passenger by the British steamer Teodoro de Larrinaga, Sunday, reached here today with the Larinaga's arrival. The collision occurred Sunday morning the straits of Florida off Sand Key.

According to Capt. Fern, of the Larrinaga, the schooner attempted to cross the vessel's bow and was cut almost in half, sinking within three minutes. The steamer was only slightly damaged.
